MANY MILLIONS ARE INVOLVED

Philadelphia Co. Control Passing to United Gas Improvement.

EFFECT IS LARGE

Deals for Stock of Pittsburgh Corporation Have Been Under Way for Some Time.

EASTERN CONCERN LARGE ONE

The passing of the control of the Philadelphia Company to the great United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia, is stated to be in progress and already well toward consummation. The event is of great local importance, as it lodges permanently the ownership of the public service interests of most of Allegheny county in the hands of outside residents. For about a year the control of the Philadelphia Company has been in Philadelphia, but not so securely placed as will be the case when this deal is completed.

Efforts were made yesterday to secure direct statements on the subject, but only evasions or denials, without the privilege of using the names of those making the denials, could be obtained.

Gradual Transfer of Stock.

About two years ago there began a gradual transfer of the stock of the Philadelphia Company to Philadelphia parties. The sales were in some cases large and in others small, but the movement was steady and has continued throughout the intervening time. At the annual meeting of the Philadelphia Company last spring, it was shown the control of the company rested with the Philadelphia interests. The only reason given at that time for this was the public in the east seemed to appreciate more the worth of the big concern than do the local people, who secured the stock when all the interests were amalgamated into the one and the company started. These private interests, while not directly connected with the United Gas Improvement Company, are friendly, and could easily make a deal.

There has been considerable activity recently on the Pittsburgh stock exchange in Philadelphia Company shares. In addition there have been private transactions not posted on the exchange and the bulk of both classes of deals are said to have been for Philadelphia accounts.

Philadelphia's Great Company.

The United Gas Improvement Company is the largest public service holding corporation in the country. It owns already gas, electric light and power and traction concerns operating in all parts of the country, and its deal in Pittsburgh would not require its entering a strange field. Among the concerns which the United controls already are the following:

Allentown Gas Company, Allentown, Pa.; Lower Merion Gas Company, Ardmore, Pa.; Atlanta Gas Light Company, Atlanta, Ga.; Burlington Gas Light Company, Burlington, Ia.; Concord Light and Power Company, Concord, N. H.; Capital City Gas Light Company, Des Moines, Ia.; Harrisburg Gas Company, Harrisburg, Pa.; New Gas Light Company, Janesville, Wis.; Fulton County Gas and Electric Company, Johnstown, N. Y.; Wyandotte Gas Company, Kansas City, Mo.; People's Gas Light Company, Manchester, N. H.; Omaha Gas Company, Omaha, Neb.; Pensacola Gas Company, Pensacola, Fla.; Philadelphia Gas works, Philadelphia; Consumers Gas Company, Reading, Pa.; Mutual Gas Light Company, Savannah, Ga.; Sioux City Gas and Electric Company, Sioux City, Ia.; Sioux Falls Gas Light Company, Sioux Falls, S. D.; St. Albans Gas Light Company, St. Albans, Vt.; St. Augustine Gas and Electric Light Company, St. Augustine, Fla.; Vicksburg Gas Light Company, Vicksburg, Miss.; Northern Liberties Gas Company, Philadelphia; Connecticut Railway and Lighting Company, Bridgeport, Conn.; Westchester Lighting Company, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; Wayne Electric Company, Wayne, Pa.

Interests in Other States.

In addition the company has a large interest in the United Electric Company of New Jersey and in the gas, electric and street railway properties of Providence R. I. It was largely identified with the gas, electric and traction interests of New Jersey, which it transferred to the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey. It remains largely interested in that concern also.

The company's stock is $36,725,000 upon which it pays 2 per cent quarterly dividends. Thomas Dolan of Philadelphia is president, Samuel T. Bodine and Randal Morgan, Philadelphia, vice presidents, and Lewis Lillie of the same city, secretary and treasurer. Messrs. Bodine and Dolan, William W. Gibbs, Clement A. Griscom, George Philler and P. A. B. Widener constitute the directorate.

Capital of Local Concern.

The Philadelphia Company itself is almost as large in capital as the United. In its present form it is only a couple of years old and its monopoly of the public service facilities of Allegheny county is nearly complete.

Its authorized capital is $30,000,000 common and $6,000,000 preferred. Of this there has been issued $28,053,029 common and $5,744,812 preferred, a total of $34,-697,841. Its funded debt amounts to $31,-852,850. Some stock of the Consolidated Gas Company and the United Traction Company is outstanding. This amounts to $5,000,000.

What changes would be made in the management or operation of the Philadelphia Company's various natural and artificial gas, electric light and street railway properties by the new owners, is still unknown. The United company has a reputation for the good management of the various concerns which it owns.

GREAT ARMIES FIGHT BATTLE

The Japanese Troops Are Driven from Fortified Positions.

SUFFER HEAVY LOSS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

MUKDEN, Oct. 9.—The Russian forward movement has begun and Bentsiaputse has been captured with a small loss.

Two days ago the Japanese had 10 divisions confronting the Russians north of the Taitse river. Their left flank, consisting of two divisions, was on the railway at Sandiapu, 30 miles southwest of Mukden and close to the Hun river. Their center, composed of four divisions, occupied the railway between Liao-Yang and Chandiapudzi, 12 miles north. Two more divisions occupied the extreme Japanese right along the road between Bentsiaputse and Bensihu. Their front extended about 52 miles.

The position at Bentsiaputse was strongly fortified and intended to withstand attack. It is reported Gen. Kuroki was there in person. The Japanese had omitted to fortify one hill, which was the key to the position. The Russians, aware of this omission, made a wide detour eastward and seized the hill with little opposition. The hill at once exposed the whole Japanese position to a heavy flanking fire.

Fought Rear Guard Action.

The Russians also turned the Japanese right, and the fortified positions thus becoming untenable, the Japanese were forced to withdraw hurriedly from Bentsiaputse, fighting a rear guard action in which they suffered heavily. The Russian losses throughout were small, although severe opposition had been expected.

Gen. Mistchenko's Cossacks had been harrying the Japanese outposts for several days and were entirely successful in a number of engagements. The Russian southern advance began on October 4, with the occupation of Shakhe, a railway station. The next day the station, which had been dismantled by the Japanese, was restored by the railway brigade following immediately behind the fighting line, and the same brigade also restored the bridge across the Shakhe river. On October 6 Gen. Mistchenko advanced almost to the Yental mines, driving in the Japanese outposts with heavy loss at the expense of only one killed and five injured.

Heavy Marching Order.

The Russian forward movement being made in the heaviest marching order, one sees everywhere whole companies of which every man carries a large knapsack on his back, a rifle on his shoulder and a large kettle or teapot slung to his waist, while hanging from the belt is the cartridge case in front and a big wooden water bottle and an ax, pickax or spade on either side. Altogether, with overcoats, the equipment weighs 100 pounds. The soldiers move steadily and cheerfully, though the column looks more like a pack train than an army.

First aid stations of the Red Cross are being organized, and the nurses are working untiringly everywhere. Doctors and Sisters of Charity are going to the front in Chinese carts at the rate of two miles an hour over heavy roads, but are cheerful and devoted as ever, in spite of the imminent prospect of more of the difficult and dangerous work under fire which won them the undying gratitude of the army at Liao-Yang.

Chinese reports of the Japanese movements state that Lieut.-Gen. Fushima, with two divisions, is moving to flank the Russians. His force is already on the Liao river within 22 miles of Sin-Min-Tin. A simultaneous movement, it is understood, is being carried out by Gen. Kuroki to the eastward, with the object of striking the railway and flanking the Russians out of Mukden, as was done at Liao-Yang; but the conditions now are rather different.

CHEFOO, Oct. 9.—The increased activity of the Japanese fleet, blockading Port Arthur in the stopping of merchantmen, is due to a lookout which is kept for three British ships which, it is suspected, intend to attempt to enter Port Arthur with tinned meats and vegetables. The British steamer Victoria was stopped near Wei-Hai-Wei this evening and the foregoing explanation was made to her by the Japanese boarding officer.

ASKS POPE TO USE INFLUENCE WITH MORGAN

ROME, Oct. 9.—The prince-bishop of Ascoli, who has written to J. Pierpont Morgan, asking for the return of the cope stolen from the cathedral at Ascoli, in 1892, and subsequently purchased by Mr. Morgan, has requested Pope Pius to use his influence to obtain the return of the cope.

FOUR WOUNDED AT CHRISTENING

One Man Is Dead and Another Dying as Result of Shooting Near Altoona.

REVOLVER WAS KEPT BUSY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ALTOONA, PA., Oct. 9.—One man is dead, another is fatally injured and two more are seriously hurt, as a result of a riot following a christening celebration among Italians employed in the stone quarries at Pemberton, on the Pennsylvania railroad, east of Altoona, this afternoon.

THE DEAD.

FRANCESCO AMBRASKI, 27 years old, killed instantly by a bullet which struck him in the breast.

FATALLY INJURED.

JOHN TOLSKI, 24 years old, shot in the chest and cannot recover.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

DOMINICK AMBRASKI, brother of the dead man.

JOHN NUGI, alleged slayer of Ambraski.

The christening began this morning. Much beer was drunk, and the orgies lasted during the whole forenoon. At 4:30 o'clock a fight was started between two of the Italians. Friends of the pair interfered and the trouble was apparently settled. A half hour later the disturbance broke out afresh. In the altercation John Nugi became angered over an alleged affront received from Francesco Ambraski and whipping out a revolver, it is alleged, he suddenly shot the other in the breast. Ambraski fell, dying almost instantly.

Tolski sprang at Nugi to wrest the revolver from him, when, it is said, the weapon was turned on him, and he fell, with a bullet in his chest. Dominick Ambraski, a brother of the man killed, then seized a club and fiercely attacked Nugi. He also was shot, receiving a serious wound, but not until he had wounded the other Italian with the club.

Nugi was overpowered by Italians and was kept until the arrival of officers, who took the man to the jail. Feeling is running high over the tragedy and another outbreak among the foreigners is feared. It is reported that Nugi attempted to take his life while on the way to the jail.

BANK CLERK CONFESSES ROBBERY OF POSTOFFICE

Worked the Combination of the Safe and Got Away With Five Thousand Dollars.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WOODSFIELD, Oct. 9.—The robbery of the Woodsfield postoffice on September 20 has been solved in the arrest of Earl O. Devore, a bookkeeper in the First National bank, by postoffice inspectors who have been at work on the case for two weeks. It develops that Devore entered the postoffice, worked the combination on the safe and took the $5,000 consigned to his bank.

He has confessed and was taken to Cincinnati today for a hearing. An inspector was taken into Devore's confidence, became his roommate, and in his absence searched his trunk and found the wrapper taken from the missing $5,000. When confronted with damaging evidence the young man's nerve deserted him for the first time and the confession followed. Devore is highly connected and has borne an irreproachable character.

INDIANA SAFE FOR ROOSEVELT

Taggart Merely Attempting to Elect Democratic Legislature in His Own Interest.

BEGAN THE WORK LONG AGO

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The Record-Herald, a Republican newspaper of this city, recently sent Walter Wellman, its widely known political correspondent, into Indiana to ascertain the situation there. He says in part:

"Indiana is for Roosevelt and Fairbanks by 15,000 to 25,000. Actually there is about as much chance of Indiana going for Parker as there is of Illinois or Michigan.

"One prominent Republican after another will tell you 'Tom' Taggart knows there is no chance to win Indiana for Parker and that he is merely trying to hoodwink the national Democrats into giving him money in an attempt to carry the legislature, he hoping to get one of the two senatorial seats.

"I do not doubt that Mr. Taggart would like a seat in the United States senate, nor is there the slightest doubt that many months ago he began setting up legislative pins. He personally saw to it that friends of his and strong, popular men, were named for state senators and representatives in the close districts and counties."

Taggart Going to Indiana.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Chairman Taggart of the Democratic national committee said tonight that he would go to Indiana some time before election day, the day to be definitely determined by the campaign work in New York. It is understood that he will go about the 18th or 20th of this month.

MRS. WESTINGHOUSE LOSES VALUABLE CARRIAGE

Senator Fairbanks and Others Have Vehicles Burned—Waddell Distinguishes Himself.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Fire on the upper floors of William F. and B. J. Downey's livery stable today caused a loss of about $100,000. The fire started from defective electric light wiring.

The French embassy lost a handsome carriage, and others who lost vehicles are Senators Wetmore, Dryden and Fairbanks; Representative Hitt and Mrs. Westinghouse. Two hundred carriages were destroyed and about 200 others badly damaged. The loss on the building and to the firm's stock is about $75,000, and to private parties, $25,000. The building is insured for $30,000, and the stock of the Downeys for $30,000. "Rube" Waddell, the Philadelphia baseball pitcher, turned volunteer fireman, and with a handkerchief tied across his mouth entered the burning building with the firemen.

MISS WILSON DROWNED.

She Was the Daughter of the Late W. L. Wilson, Postmaster-General Under Cleveland.

NORFOLK, VA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Miss Bettie Wilson was drowned at Virginia Beach today, while bathing with five other girls, all of whom got beyond their depth. They were all rescued and revived except Miss Wilson.

Miss Wilson is from Indian Rock, Va., and was the daughter of the late W. L. Wilson, postmaster-general under Cleveland, and at the time of his death, four years ago, the president of Washington and Lee university. She was 20 odd years of age, handsome and cultivated.

SWEDE HANGS HIMSELF WHILE SMOKING PIPE

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—John F. Eckburg, a Swede, today hanged himself at his home in Evanston, because out of work, and when the body was discovered the suicide held a pipe between his teeth. The pipe was still lighted and Eckburg had apparently continued smoking as long as he could draw his breath.

DEATH FOR SIX IN BIG TUNNEL

Railroaders Suffocated by Coal Gas on Canadian Border.

THREE ARE RESCUERS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PORT HURON, MICH., Oct. 9.—Six employes of the Grand Trunk railway were suffocated by coal gas today in the St. Clair tunnel which runs under the St. Clair river from Port Huron to Sarnia, Ont. A coal train broke in two while passing through the tunnel and three of the train crew were suffocated while part of the train lay stalled in the tunnel; the engineer lost his life when he returned and endeavored to push the stalled cars back to safety, and two other rescuers perished in vain attempts to penetrate the gaseous atmosphere of the great tube.

THE DEAD.

A. S. BEGG, Port Huron, superintendent of terminals.
JOHN COLEMAN, engineer, Port Huron.
J. B. SIMPSON, conductor, Sarnia, Ont.
D. T. TINSLEY, conductor, Sarnia, Ont.
THOMAS M'GRATH, brakeman, Sarnia, Ont.
D. A. GILLIS, brakeman, Sarnia, Ont.

When the train broke Engineer Coleman realized the accident had happened, and with the three cars still attached to the engine, ran out of the tunnel into the Sarnia yards. He then went back into the tube for the stalled cars and attempted to push them back to the American entrance. The grade proved too steep. The engine and cars rolled back into the gas-laden tunnel and Engineer Coleman was suffocated at his post in the engine cab. His fireman, Fred Forester, jumped into the partially filled water tank of the engine, where there was enough air to preserve his life, although he is in a critical condition.

When news of the broken train reached the American side Superintendent Begg, accompanied by two employes, started in on foot, hoping they might rescue the crew. They had gone but a short distance when the gas became stifling and Begg succumbed. The other two rescuers succeeded in crawling to the portal of the tunnel.

At the Sarnia end an engine with a party of rescuers entered the tube and had proceeded but a short distance when they found John Haley, a track walker, unconscious. He was taken out and again the engine plunged into the gaseous atmosphere. The rescuers were overcome, however, by the gas before the train was reached, and Brakeman McGrath died. Switchman Blake, who was a member of the party, after a time made another attempt to penetrate the gas, and this time succeeded in reaching the stalled engine, coupled it to the cars and ran the train into daylight. Simpson, Tinsley and Gillis were found dead in the caboose. Fireman Forester was in the water tank of the engine nearly two hours before he was rescued.

PREACHER ASSERTS RIGHT OF FREEDOM OF BALLOT

Takes the Stump for Republican Party, Despite W. C. T. U. Opposition.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 9.—The Rev. E. W. Dewitt of the First Baptist church of Athens has decided to go on the stump for the Republican party and has scandalized the members of the Women's Christian Temperance union who remonstrated vigorously with him. They urged him to speak for the Prohibitionists.

He replied he is a free man and that because he is a clergyman does not prevent him from being independent. He takes a broader view than they of the liquor question, he says, believing heartily in the Republican party's Philippine policy and its efforts to civilize the barbarians there. He quotes the words of Christ:

"Go ye into all the world and preach My gospel to every creature." The Republicans, he declares, are obeying this command in pursuing their policy in the Philippines.

FIFTEEN PERSONS DEAD.

All Lived in the Same Neighborhood and the Deaths Resulted from Impure Liquor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Fifteen deaths within eight days in the neighborhood known as Strikers Farm on the West Side, have started an investigation by the police and coroner's office.

Coroner Scholer says the deaths were caused by impure liquor. All the victims knew one another and a curious circumstance is that the men had attended their friends' funerals until all were dead. Of the 15 deaths four were in one house and two each in three other houses.

PAUR GOES TO GREET HERBERT

New Orchestra Director Attends Latter's Concert in New York.

WILSON AT THE PIER

WILL COME HERE NEXT WEEK

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.

The old and the new director of the Pittsburgh orchestra exchanged hearty greetings tonight at the Majestic theater. Emil Paur arrived this morning on the steamer Hamburg and was met at the pier by George H. Wilson and William C. Hamilton of Pittsburgh, representing the orchestra committee. As soon as Herr Paur learned his predecessor, Victor Herbert, was to give his opening concert tonight he expressed a wish to attend. He went to the theater with Messrs. Wilson and Hamilton, and during the intermission was escorted to the stage entrance, where he was given a most hearty welcome by Herbert.

Then the two musicians clasped hands and the new Pittsburgher was led to the dressing room of the old Pittsburgher, all the while the two gentlemen showering compliments and words of good will toward each other.

Orchestra Gives Paur Ovation.

Mr. Paur received quite an ovation from the members of the Herbert orchestra, most of whom recognized him and crowded around to welcome him to America.

Mr. Herbert's first night was an unqualified success. Not a seat was left at 8 o'clock, and after all the possible standing room was sold scores of people were turned away.

"The people of New York seem not to have forgotten me," said Mr. Herbert, beaming with happiness at his success. If anything beside the great audience was needed to attest this fact, it came in the spontaneous applause that followed every number, and was especially enthusiastic following selections from the conductor's own composition. All in all, it was quite a "Pittsburgh night" among New York musicians.

Glad to Return to America.

"I am delighted to be again in America," said Herr Paur this afternoon at the Savoy hotel. "I did not leave New York from choice when I went abroad, but because conditions made it better for me to go. The 10 years I spent in your country developed me into almost an American, and it will not take long for the process to complete itself, now that I am here again and am to have the ideal surroundings that are promised me in Pittsburgh. I have met one member of the orchestra committee, and have had correspondence with another. Both I have found to be ideal gentlemen. The same I can say for our manager, so what more could a man ask?

"Nor are the members of the orchestra of which it is my honor to be the conductor strangers to me. Most of them I have played with abroad, and many of them were members of organizations I conducted in this country. The artists who compose the Pittsburgh orchestra are of the highest ability, and I look forward to a very pleasant and comparatively easy task in holding the organization to its high standard of excellence of the past six years under Mr. Herbert. Of course, we will work hard, and while I shall be glad to meet the people of Pittsburgh socially, I will allow nothing to interfere with my chosen work.

Expects Happy Life in Pittsburgh.

"I am looking forward to a very happy life in Pittsburgh. It is a delightful city and the reputation of its people for appreciating the efforts of its musical organization convinces me that no place in the world could give me a more pleasant reception than I anticipate when our concerts begin. I have twice visited Pittsburgh, and a drive through the residential portion of the city I remember as one of the most delightful of my life. I was greatly struck with the natural scenery of the East End. I believe you call it, and the beautiful home life apparent on every hand. It looked to me like a city of homes: I know I shall love it. I am glad to be a fellow townsman of Andrew Carnegie, whose work for music, education and humanity in general has made his name known throughout the length and breadth of Europe.

"The condition of music in America has steadily improved since first I came here. There are plenty of good musicians in America, and the outlook for orchestral music in the country is bright."

Mr. Paur will probably reach Pittsburgh Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. Rehearsals begin on the 24th. Mr. Wilson intended to return to Pittsburgh tonight, but finding that Mr. Herbert's opening concert was to be given tonight, decided to stay over to attend with the new director. He will not arrive in Pittsburgh until Tuesday morning.

FRANK A. PARKER.

GIRL SUES THE BANDMASTER.

Action Charging Breach of Promise to Wed Is Commenced Against Vessella.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Papers in a suit of breach of promise have been filed against Oreste Vessella, the Italian bandmaster, who married Miss Edna Egan, daughter of a Cincinnati millionaire. The papers were served by Sheriff Kirby of Atlantic county.

The complainant is Gaetanina Lombari, who lives with her brother in New York. The case probably will come up at the term of the Atlantic circuit of the supreme court.

CLAIMS PARKER IS NO FIGHTER

Tom Watson's Letter of Acceptance Ridicules Democratic Nominee.

ROOSEVELT A WORTHY FOE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Oct. 9.—The letter of acceptance of Thomas E. Watson, the Populist candidate for president, was released today. In part he says:

When two great political parties have, in turn, governed the country and have between them brought about unsatisfactory conditions, it is but a natural fact that a third party should arise. Citizens who have looked in vain to "the two great parties" for remedial legislation, lose confidence in both after a while, and adopt one of two courses: they either submit to the evils of bad government, or protest by organizing a third party.

To the student of history, there is nothing more saddening than the tendency of the people to submit. As a rule, political education never reaches the masses. Statecraft, like priestcraft, jealously guards its secrets. There is always the inner sanctuary which the people are taught to believe would be profaned by the touch of their unholy feet.

No Place for Third Party.

Again, in organized government, there is a mysterious reverence for authority. "Whatever is, is right" to the unthinking multitude; and the votaries of power never cease to deepen that impression. Thus, partly from ignorance and partly from reverence for established authority, the people, in every age, have shown more inclination to submit to bad government than to resist it.

A third party has no right to exist unless there are abuses in government which "the two great parties" refuse to reform. Unless the two old parties are wrong, there is no room or excuse for a third. But if both the old parties are equally guilty of class legislation, and are equally subservient to the beneficiaries of special privilege, then it is not only the right of the patriot to form a party of protest, but a duty.

The contention of the Peoples party being that both old parties are wrong, we wage war on both. Ours is the two-edged sword. In our campaign it may happen that we do greater damage to the Republicans than to the Democrats. Such a result is the accident of war, not the purpose of the campaign. It is our business to preach sound Populism, which is sound Jeffersonian Democracy, and to hit the Republicans on the one hand and the Democrats on the other.

Flays Parker's Principles.

Much abuse has been heaped upon me because more time was devoted by me to denunciation of Parker than of Roosevelt. The reason is obvious enough. Roosevelt is a straight-out Republican, who declares boldly for Republican principles, defiantly defending existing conditions. To attack him is a short, easy job. He is so conspicuous and stationary a target, that no one who wished to take a shot at him could possibly miss the mark. He is not in ambush; he is behind no "blind," he stands out in the open and he says to his enemies, "Here I am—a Republican who stands part all existing conditions; if you want a fight, come on!" Now, I can understand a Republican like that, and, while I would love to make my battleax ring on his helmet until one of us went down in political defeat and death, yet I could respect him all the while, as a foeman worthy of any man's steel.

With Mr. Parker it is different. He is not a Jeffersonian Democrat, yet he seeks to secure the support of Jeffersonians. If he would speak out plainly and tell the people that he is in principle the same thing, practically, that Roosevelt is, the Bryan Democrats would fall away from him by the millions. I would then be enabled to organize such a party of revolt against the Republican rule as would sweep the country. His attitude is thoroughly disingenuous, profoundly lacking in true manhood and leadership.

Roosevelt Dares Parker.

Roosevelt stands in the open and dares Parker defiantly, almost mockingly, and Parker meekly stays out of the fight. In his formal letter of acceptance he says that he takes up the glove thrown at his feet, declaring that he will revoke that pension order, No. 78. But in the same breath, he hastens to admit that Roosevelt did precisely what he, Parker, thinks ought to be done. If elected he, Parker, will at once have congress do what Roosevelt has already done. Heavens! what a meek warrior is this! "Roosevelt did the right thing, but not in the right way, and if you will elect me president I will do the same thing in the proper way." Did any nominee ever seek the presidency on that kind of a platform before?

In his formal letter of acceptance, just made public, it is curious to note that Mr. Parker does not once mention the name of Jefferson, Jackson or any other great Democrat. He makes no reference to the titular deities of the Democratic party. The man to whom he alludes with the greatest reverence is William McKinley; and the next is James G. Blaine. He eulogizes the policy of both these statesmen, and finds fault with Mr. Roosevelt because he has not followed their illustrious example. Really, Mr. Parker's peculiar kind of Democracy amounts to a riddle.

Bryan's Bitter Pill.

If Republican policies are to be overthrown it must be done by men who boldly declare against them with a determination to defeat them. The way to whip the enemy is to fight it. The Democratic party has known what it was to be led by captains who put the battle cry into plain language so that all could understand where the difference was on vital issues. Such a leader was Jefferson. Such a leader was Andrew Jackson. Such a leader was Stephen A. Douglas. Such a leader was William J. Bryan.

In this campaign it has no such leader. To their secret shame and disgust, the rank and file of the great Democratic party sees that their captain will not fight.

The great party of 6,500,000 voters sent their leaders to St. Louis without any instructions to surrender to Wall street. That surrender created a profound discontent which will not down. Mr. Bryan himself cannot make that bitter pill palatable to the Bryanites. The sell-out was too brazen, too sudden, too complete. Nobody suspected an earthquake like that. The ground opened, and into the yawning chasm fell all the principles of the Democratic party.

Wolves in Sheep's Clothing.

These leaders went to St. Louis clothed from head to heel in good Jeffersonian Democracy. When Dave Hill, Pat McCarren and August Belmont finished their work, the Democratic bosses were so nearly nude that, had it been a personal matter rather than political, they could have been indicted for "a notorious act of public indecency."

The chosen advisers of Mr. Parker are the men who led for the trusts and corporations when the taxpayers were routed during Cleveland's second administration. From Gorman, who reeks with the foulest trust legislation of the last 20 years, to Carlisle, who wrote the sugar schedule at the dictation of the sugar trust, and Belmont, of the secret midnight bond deal, down to Olney, who, in effect, advised the too willing Cleveland to lend the United States army to the Pullman Car Company in Chicago, the notorious old band of boodlers are there. What may be expected of them if Parker is elected can be guessed by those who remember the carnival of class legislation which rendered forever infamous the second administration of Grover Cleveland.

Leopard's Spots Unchanged.

The leopard has not changed his spots, nor the Ethiopian his skin; that Cleveland crowd is hungry; it has been "out" a long time; we ask the people whether the predatory band get their clutches upon the government again!

How any party which has for recent years stood for so many different things and broken so many contracts can now expect to be trusted is a puzzle in politics. The manner in which the platform of 1900 was evolved, the manner in which Parker's nomination was brought about, ought to intensify the distrust which the bad record of the party justly creates. Every line of the platform seems to be in a tremble, lest it should displease the beneficiaries of class legislation. Every tone of its quaking voice seems to say to the corporations: "Don't be afraid; I won't hurt you." With the shadow fear of Snug the Joiner, in "Midsummer Night's Dream," the apparent lion kindly dissipates the fear of his audience by assuring them in advance that its roar is only for stage purposes. If that platform had been meant to please the people, how easy it would have been to write it! But it was meant to delude the people and to please the corporations; hence its wonderful contortions in verbiage, its agonized efforts to use much language and say nothing. This much must be admitted, however, the candidate fits the platform as though a political tailor had measured him for it.

PASTOR TO MARRY AND GO ABROAD

The Rev. Dr. Nathaniel H. Holmes of Bellevue to Be Absent for a Year.

THE REV. T. J. LEAK CHOSEN

The Rev. Dr. Nathaniel H. Holmes, in a farewell sermon preached to the congregation of the Bellevue Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning, announced that he would not consider a return to that church or a call to any other for the coming year, as he is going abroad. It is learned that the doctor is to start in a couple of weeks, and that before his start he is to be married. The bride-elect is a resident of New Castle, where several years ago Dr. Holmes had a pastorate.

A hint of his intentions in this matter was contained in his farewell sermon, when he said, "The family has talked it over."

A committee, composed of J. W. Vickerman, chairman, Dr. D. L. Davis and Frank Cruikshank, appointed some time ago in connection with the pastorate for the coming year, has agreed upon the Rev. Dr. T. J. Leak of the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church, and Dr. Leak, after considering the matter, has agreed to accept the appointment if made by the conference. The officials of the church are highly pleased with Dr. Leak's promise to accept the appointment. He will be recommended at the conference when it meets at Leechburg on Tuesday.

Dr. Holmes has been in charge of the Bellevue congregation for two years. In that time the church has grown from 500 to 600 in membership and has prospered otherwise. It is now about to erect a $60,000 building. There have been reports of friction over the building between Dr. Holmes and other church leaders, but these reports are denied absolutely. The doctor's intention of going abroad is said to be the "private reason" for not returning to which he has referred recently. At the quarterly conference last Friday he mentioned his intention to retire from the pastorate.

The foreign trip will include the British Islands and the continent of Europe.

CATHOLIC WOMEN START NEW WORK AMONG POOR

Branches of Their League and Parish Houses Are to Be Established.

A special work among Catholics, especially among the foreigners and the poor of that faith, is about to be undertaken by the Women's Catholic league of the Pittsburgh diocese. A meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the Lyceum hall in Washington street and the decision to embark in the new work was made.

It is the intention to establish a branch of the league and a house in every parish in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, where women who are employed may take their children, to be kept during the day, fed if necessary and washed and cleaned. Girls that are old enough will be taught sewing and other domestic arts and will be helped to employment. At the same time the younger and older ones will be instructed in their religion, not that their parents cannot instruct them, but because they have not the time to do so.

The lack of social opportunities among the poor and the foreigners will be met by little entertainments and parties. At Christmas time each parish house will be the center, where Christmas plays, a Christmas tree and the other amusements usual to the season will be supplied.

Catholic foreigners have been accustomed in their own country to celebrating the holidays of the church, not only by religious observance, but by innocent amusements. For example, the Italians and the Poles celebrate the feast day of St. Nicholas by gifts. It is very probable that in parishes where Italians and Poles abound the observance of the day will be revived, possibly even this winter.

Only Catholic children and their parents are expected to be reached.

DR. SWAYNE EXPLAINS TROUBLE OVER CHILDREN

Declares Some Were Placed in Unfit Families Because Priest Was Unfamiliar With Community.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 9.—Minus 36 of the 57 children which he took to Morenci, Ariz., several days ago, Dr. M. Whitney Swayne, superintendent of a New York foundling asylum, passed through St. Louis for New York. Dr. Swayne, while awaiting a train, said that none of the children was missing, but admitted that his stay in Morenci had hardly been what he anticipated. He said:

"The trouble was due to the fact that one of our fathers, unfamiliar with the community, recommended that we place certain children in certain families. We had already established two colonies in Kansas and Arkansas and had children left. When about half of them had been placed in Morenci the unfitness of some of the families to rear children was brought to my attention and I at once started out to collect the babies, who are from 3 to 5 years old. We soon had a crowd about our car headquarters. Some in the crowd were persons from whom I had taken the children, and others were friends who attempted to dictate where the children should be placed.

"I am sure that we have record of all the children we took and that none is unaccounted for. I shall take the remaining 21 to New York and they will be placed in some other part of the country."

AUTO STRUCK BICYCLE.

Rider Jumped in Time to Save His Life. Driver Did Not Stop.

While riding around from North Canal street to Thirteenth street, Sharpsburg, yesterday afternoon, the bicycle of George L. Pryor, a druggist employed by Patrick & Patteson of Sharpsburg, was struck by an automobile. Mr. Pryor saw his danger in time to leap from his wheel and escape injury.

The place, manner and hour were the same as those when an Italian boy was struck and seriously injured Sunday, September 11, by the machine of Henry Wittme. The driver of the machine yesterday did not stop long enough to be recognized.

LUTHERANS DEDICATE NEW MILLVALE CHURCH

The new St. John's German Lutheran church in Millvale was dedicated yesterday. Services were first held in the old church in Frederick street, the pastor, the Rev. E. Toizke, preaching a valedictory sermon. In the afternoon the dedication services were in the new church by the pastor, and the Rev. W. Broecker delivered the dedicatory sermon. In the evening the Rev. J. E. Horst preached in English. St. John's church was organized in 1877. The new church was purchased from the Methodists by E. T. Lippert and presented to the congregation and then remodeled at a cost of $18,000.

DEATH CLAIMS A POPULAR BANKER

S. R. Shumaker Dies Suddenly from Cerebral Hemorrhage at Sewickley Home.

HIS WORK AS A FINANCIER

Samuel R. Shumaker, vice president of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home in Boundary street, Sewickley. Mr. Shumaker had returned from Atlantic City but an hour before his death, where he had taken an active part in the proceedings of the Pennsylvania State Bankers' association, which had been in conference there during the latter part of the week. He was apparently in his usual good health on his arrival home, and death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage. While a Pittsburgh banker of but comparatively recent date, Mr. Shumaker was nevertheless widely known and esteemed by the banking and financial fraternity of the city. With the State Bankers' association he had always been closely affiliated, and long before his coming to Pittsburgh he had formed an acquaintance with local bankers, and he was given a hearty welcome when he accepted the position of vice president of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania and came here to live.

Mr. Shumaker was born 47 years ago in Academia, near Mifflintown, Pa. He was a son of the late Dr. John C. Shumaker, who was well known in educational circles. Dr. Shumaker was connected with Academia college and later conducted an academy at Chambersburg, where his son received his education.

The deceased had been associated with financial institutions since his early manhood, when he entered the Girard National Bank of Philadelphia. After serving this bank for several years in various capacities he was made assistant cashier of the Chambersburg National bank. Two years later he was made cashier of the Huntingdon (Pa.) National bank, where he remained for 18 years. In June, 1903, he was elected vice president of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania, which position he held up to the time of his death. Upon assuming this place in the Pittsburgh bank he removed to Sewickley. He was also president of the Windber (Pa.) National bank.

Mr. Shumaker was a prominent worker in both the state and national bank associations. He was a member of the executive committee of the state association and at one time was president of the national organization and was a member of the Duquesne club of this city. He married in 1892 Miss Margaret Blair, daughter of ex-Judge John P. Blair of Indiana, Pa. His widow and three young children survive.

BISHOP DOANE SAYS DEATH SHOULD SEVER MARRIAGE TIE

Declares Church Canons Should Agree With Prayer Book on the Divorce Question.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—Great crowds went to Trinity church today to hear the archbishop of Canterbury preach, and to the Church of the Advent, where a mass meeting in the interest of upholding the sanctity of the marriage bond was addressed by several well-known leaders in the Episcopal church.

Bishop Doane, in speaking upon divorce, mentioned the effort to embody the views of those opposed to remarriage of divorced persons, in a canon which shall displace the existing one, which allows remarriage under certain conditions. He quoted from the marriage ritual of the prayer book to show nothing but death could sever those who have been united in holy matrimony, and continued:

"I think it is time the canons of the church agreed with the prayer book."

LOVER'S METHODS LIKE STONE AGE

Wanted a Wife and Is Said to Have Resorted to Unusual Force.

BROKE SWEETHEART'S PIANO

The strenuous efforts made by Frank Nichols, a Lawrenceville millworker, to procure a wife, led to the wrecking of a home in Forty-sixth street and to the assaulting of two women in the house. Nichols, who is charged with having created all the trouble, has disappeared, and is being sought by the police. The man wanted to marry Myrtle Smallsty, aged 15. Her refusal, coupled with positive actions by the girl's mother, infuriated the millworker, and he choked both women into insensibility.

As a lover, Nichols modeled his methods after the customs of the stone age. He is 35 years of age and came here from Indiana some time ago, taking lodgings with the Smallsty family, at 198 Forty-sixth street. He soon paid attentions to Myrtle and showed his designs when he loaned the girl's father a sum of money and said he would hold Myrtle as security. One night, the girl says, he asked her to go out with him, and when she refused he threatened to kill her. Fearing him, she accompanied him, and in the morning told her mother what had happened. On the same day, Mrs. Smallsty declares, she found a new revolver in the man's room. He persisted in asking the girl to go out with him, and on Saturday is said to have asked her to marry him.

When Myrtle refused to listen to his pleading, she says he threatened to throw vitriol in her face. He went to the girl's mother with the same proposition, and repeated his threats, it is said. Mrs. Smallsty took her daughter to a relative in Sharpsburg and on the street car was again accosted by Nichols. In the evening he returned and found both women in the house. When Mrs. Smallsty sent her daughter out, he became angry and is said to have attacked both women, and then, taking a hammer, entered the parlor for the purpose of breaking Myrtle's piano.

Mrs. Smallsty ran to call a policeman and when she returned Nichols had left. The piano was converted to splinters and twisted wires, and the furniture in the room was destroyed.

DIAMONDS DISAPPEAR.

Rings Worth $1,000 Are Taken from a Grant Street Resort and Fourteen Persons Are Arrested.

Myrtle Kane, proprietress of a resort at 105 Grant street, reported to the police yesterday that $1,000 worth of diamond rings had been taken from her room. The police placed 14 men and women under arrest, but were unable to learn where the diamonds disappeared to. The persons under arrest are white girls, negroes and Italians.

The Kane woman said she left her rings on the bureau and went downstairs about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A few minutes later she went back and the jewels were gone. She notified Acting Captain of Police John Cullan, who put all the inmates and visitors in the house under arrest. The missing rings consisted of one valued at $500, one at $200, one at $175 and two valued at $65 each.

HONORED THEIR FIRST PASTOR

Congregation Reveres Memory of Minister Who Officiated 100 Years Ago.

The congregation of the Beulah Presbyterian church, on the northern turnpike, two miles from Wilkinsburg, yesterday afternoon celebrated the centennial anniversary of the beginning of the pastorate of the Rev. James Graham, the first resident pastor of the church. Over 400 persons, many descendants of the original members of the church, were present. Four granddaughters of the Rev. Mr. Graham attended.

A biography of Mr. Graham was read by Dr. Sydney A. Chalfant. A historical sketch of the church since was read by the Rev. W. S. Miller of Edgewood. Addresses were made by the Rev. Calvin G. Hazlett, Plum Creek; the Rev. William F. McKee, Turtle Creek, and the Rev. Dr. Samuel Fisher of Swissvale. The Rev. W. R. Reed read a sermon delivered by the Rev. James Graham 100 years ago.

BOOTH-TUCKER SPEAKS AT FAREWELL MEETINGS

Amount Spent by Army on the Poor Increased from $20,000 to $900,000.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—To bid farewell to Booth-Tucker, the commander of the American branch of the Salvation Army, who will return to England in November, big audiences assembled at the Auditorium theater this morning, afternoon and night.

At all three services Booth-Tucker made addresses. Many letters of regret at the departure of Booth-Tucker were read, one of them being from Mayor Weaver. A number of ministers were among those who praised the work done by the retiring commander. In reviewing the work done by the army during the eight years he has been in this country, Booth-Tucker showed that the amount spent annually on the poor had increased from $20,000 to $900,000.

MERGER IS PROBABLE.

Union Stock Yards and Pittsburgh Packing and Provision Company Pave Way for Consolidation.

That the Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company and the Pittsburgh Union Stock Yards Company are to be merged and operated by the same directorate and corporation is the general belief and the undenied report from an authoritative source.

The Pittsburgh Union Stock Yards Company has enjoyed its present charter for the past five years, but is applying for a new charter under the same directorate. Aside from the usual privileges asked for by like corporations, the new charter provides the right to slaughter live stock and to traffic in provisions and finished meat products. The directorate of the Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company and that of the Pittsburgh Union Stock Yards Company has always been almost identical, W. V. Callery, Simon O'Donnell and J. D. Callery being heavy and controlling stockholders in both.

None of the officials of either company would discuss the matter last night, W. V. Callery declaring that "it is an entirely personal matter, the purpose of which later developments will show."

ANOTHER BLOW AT LARKIN TODAY

Bigelow Plans to Pass Ordinance Creating Additional Positions in Bureau of Filtration.

SEQUEL TO MANDAMUS CASE

After having defeated Controller Larkin in court on the proposition to pay the filtration employes out of the bond fund, Director Bigelow proposes to follow up his advantage in select council today and pass the ordinance creating additional positions in the filtration bureau, the salaries for which are also to be paid out of the bond fund. The new positions, it is estimated, will increase the payroll of the bureau $30,000 a year. Controller Larkin claims the payroll now amounts to between $85,000 and $100,000 a year.

The controller says the whole payroll for the Philadelphia filtration plants is only $65,000 this year. He says the expenses of Philadelphia's filtration system are paid out of the regular appropriations and not out of the bond fund, and that there was no filtration bureau in existence there until some of the plants were in operation.

The controller has stated he intends to appeal the filtration bureau case, which was decided against him by Judge Frazer, to a higher court, but the papers have not yet been filed. Director Bigelow says he doubts the controller will take an appeal. The ordinance on the desk in select council, which the administration expects to pass today, has been in the upper branch for several months, but was lost sight of in the hurly-burly attending the passage of the bond ordinance in the summer.

Even should the administration have enough votes today to pass the ordinance it may be stopped by a technicality. It is said to contain a legal defect. It specifies that a certain number of men in certain capacities shall be employed and states that a certain sum shall be paid them, but does not state whether this sum shall be paid them in the aggregate or separately. To correct this the ordinance must be amended and then lie over until the next meeting to be reprinted. If it should be passed without correction it will give the controller a good chance to refuse to pay any salaries provided in the ordinance.

There is another bill pending in select council which Director Bigelow wants passed. It provides for the expenditure of $80,000 of the first filtration bond fund to purchase water meters and to employ additional men in the bureau of water to install the meters. There is strong objection in some quarters to installing any meters in advance of filtration, because the consumer will have to pay for the water by measurement, whether it is clear or muddy.

If the administration can command a majority vote today an attempt will be made to withdraw the Pittsburgh Railways Company's ordinances out of the special committee to which they were referred by the opposition. This committee has held a couple of meetings, but the traction officials have ignored invitations to appear before it.

LESLIE MUST RESIGN FROM SELECT COUNCIL

If He Fails to Do So Mayor Hays Will Declare His Seat Forfeited.

A. H. Leslie, superintendent of the county workhouse, has promised to resign his seat in select council today as member from the Seventeenth ward. If he fails his seat will be declared vacant by Mayor Hays, because Leslie has already assumed his duties as superintendent of the workhouse, which, under the new charter act, is incompatible with acting as a member of councils.

The new charter provides no person shall be elected to councils who holds a federal, state, county or city position, and it further states that if a councilman shall take, accept or hold any such position he shall at once forfeit the office of councilman. Under the strict construction of the law, Leslie is no longer a councilman and his resignation is unnecessary. It is the opinion of the city legal advisers that he gave up his seat when he accepted the office of superintendent of the workhouse, although he has since retained his seat and exercised the functions of a councilman.

No objections, however, will be raised providing he resigns today. The mayor is expected to issue a proclamation, fixing November 8, the date of the national election, on which to elect a successor to Leslie. His successor will have until April, 1908, to serve. Leslie, having been elected last spring for a term of four years. It is stated that the administration will offer no opposition to the Republican candidate in the Seventeenth ward and that the Leslie strength will be thrown to the support of S. Lennox.

MOTHER DEFENDS SON.

Attacked a Policeman and Gave the Boy an Opportunity to Escape.

Mrs. Annie Turner of Watson avenue, Allegheny, and her son were fighting in Rebecca street, Saturday night, it is alleged. Officer John Capp placed the boy under arrest, but when he started to take him to the patrol box the mother flew at the officer and bit and scratched him until he was compelled to let the boy go to protect himself from the attacks of the infuriated mother. The boy escaped and the officer locked up the mother. She was fined $5 and costs or 20 days to jail.

Albert Tacke of James street, for kicking in the door of the house of Annie Sipe of the same street, kicking her and threatening to kill her, paid $5 and costs.

COST OF IMPROVEMENTS ARE LARGELY INCREASED

The big filtering reservoir on the hill in North Braddock, which has a capacity of 9,000,000 gallons, has been undergoing repairs, necessitated by a slide of earth which burst several terraces in the masonry. It will be at least two weeks longer before the George Lieg Company of Braddock will be ready to turn the reservoir over to the borough. The cost of the repairs instead of $2,500, as calculated, will likely run up to $12,500. It will take 10 days to fill the big reservoir after the water is turned into the pipes by the water works pumps.

COLORED OFFICERS TO GIVE BALL FOR SICK COMRADE

The colored policemen of the city have arranged for a colored ball, to be held in Progress hall, Wylie avenue and Elm street, on Wednesday night. There will be a number of prize dances and cakewalks. The proceeds will be given to Policeman Joseph A. Hill, who has been suffering from a lingering illness for some time.

Doty Committed to Jail.

W. H. Doty, the East End contractor, who had been sued by Frank J. Rues on a charge of forgery, was committed to jail yesterday. Doty was arrested by Inspector R. S. Gray while trying, it is alleged, to pass a bogus check on the Schwarzchild & Sulzberger Beef Company on Saturday.

"Babes in Toyland."

The Period of the Year in This Store That Belongs to Children.

Opening of Imported Toys Today.

November McCall's Ready.
The November number of McCall's Magazine ready. At our Pattern counter—5c a copy. Every late style of garment shown therein, and every garment depicted on sale in the department at 10c and 15c each—none higher. The free fashion sheet is also ready.

And now to-wit: On this 10th day of October, 1904, the gates of Toyland are thrown open and the freedom of our East basement is extended to all the children of Greater Pittsburg and the towns surrounding the city.

Today we open the marvelous toys from the toy centers of Europe. We would like the children to understand to what length we go to gather toys for their amusement—we would even like parents to have some knowledge of our travels. Come with us:

Crossing over to Germany we go at once to the toy makers in the Thuringen Mountains, or perhaps as you best know the locality from history, the Black Forest of Germany. We make our headquarters in quaint German towns. Then daily we drive or walk through the mountains to the little hamlets and sequestered homes of the German peasants, and from their store of toys we select all sorts of Fur Animals, Christmas Tree Ornaments and a great lot of miscellaneous and inexpensive toys. After spending some weeks here we go to another German town, old Nuremburg, and there we are put to it in the selection of mechanical toys suitable for Pittsburg youngsters—for of all the riotous lot of toys in every stage of mechanism that in Nuremburg is calculated to set one distracted. But we finally finish our selection and then we're off for Vienna, where we find the finest Walking Toys, Walking Dolls and Walking Animals—finer and more complicated than they make this class of toys anywhere else in the world. Lastly, we get to Paris, where we select the fine dolls and all dolls' belongings, for the girls.

As you haven't counted the time while on this trip you'll be surprised to know, when you dock in New York, that we have been gone over two months, and in all those weeks have done nothing but select toys for the children of Pittsburg.

Merely touching variety in this important collection, which you are invited to see today, or any time that suits your convenience, we desire to say that we have trains of cars 15 feet long, drawn by a steam locomotive having all the fittings and appliances of a regular locomotive, which will cost anyone $350.00, and from that down to the mere bauble for a nickel.

If you can't bring the children, let them come any time by themselves. We'll take care of them. The East Basement belongs to them any hour of the day we're open from now until the lights go out here on the evening of the 24th of December.

NOTICE: Purchases in the Toy Department will be held for future delivery, when requested. This also applies to the Bric-a-Brac Department and all other departments that have holiday goods.

These are for people who want practical, long-wearing umbrellas. We can recommend them as such. The materials are: Twilled or tape edge taffeta, plain union taffeta. Complete with case and tassel. Louisine is its name. We've had louisine silk and now we have louisine in a mixture of cotton and silk. New Silk Fur Materials.

Silk Furs are the very newest weaves shown today in the imported dress goods section. Silk fur garments are held in very high favor by the women of fashion this season. One of the Finest Corsets Made—La Fleur.

The name will at once suggest to you its French outlines, and the French, you know, are noted for the excellence of their corset productions.

In this case, however, although built on French ideas and made entirely of finest imported materials, it is not a French corset in the sense of being manufactured in France.

La Fleur is made right in our own country, and great care has been devoted to it so that all the points of excellence of the French corsets are combined with the high qualities of the American product.

This is why it is so well adapted to the American figure. A more graceful corset never was, as you will say the moment you see it.

But it also possesses that other great essential—comfort, to an unusual degree. You can wear La Fleur and forget you have a corset on.

Women who are particular about the looks of their corset, as well as the fit, will also be greatly pleased with La Fleur on this account. All the materials are the finest and each pair is finished with exquisite lace.

Colored Laces and All-Overs.

Colored laces are in great demand, both as a trimming for silk and woolen gowns and as an all-over for entire waists. We have made great preparations and are prepared to show an unequalled line of colored Venise Lace Bands in red, navy, brown and gray. Prices begin at 75c and run up to $4.00 a yard.

Venise Lace All-Overs in the same color range at various prices.

Thomas E. Watson's letter of acceptance cannot be classed with those of other candidates or compared with them. It is full of personalities and hard political hits without pretense of dignity or sustained argument. It is frankly explanatory of Watson's attitude toward the candidates of the leading parties and gives a good reason for that attitude. While it may not be regarded as a valuable contribution to the literature of the campaign it must be admitted to be an interesting document. Mr. Watson is a radical Populist and as such more nearly represents the Bryan theories than does Candidate Parker.

Pittsburgh is naturally much interested in the report that the Philadelphia Company has been sold to the United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia. The sale, if consummated, will probably make not much difference in the management of the many underlying corporations in the Pittsburgh district. There will be, of course, another interest imposed, eager to extract something in the way of profits from the operation of the constituent corporations and the controlling machine will be one remove further from the original obligations, but the public already gets so little consideration that it will hardly notice another change in ownership.

Joseph E. Thropp, candidate for congress on the Democratic ticket in the Nineteenth district, declares that if elected he will adhere to Republican policies just as he did when elected by the Republican party. But he finds that he cannot take Republican voters with him into the Democratic camp by his promises and that promises of that sort are driving the Democratic voters of the district over to his Republican opponent, John M. Reynolds. Mr. Thropp is likely to find himself in November the worst beaten candidate for congressional honors in the state. Incidentally his peculiar candidacy will increase the vote for the entire Republican tickets in Blair, Cambria and Bedford counties, which compose the Nineteenth district.

There is this to be said for the petition of the Union Bridge Company and the probable warm rejoiner of the rivermen; it will attract the attention of the war department and the general public to the situation and it will lead to a thorough investigation. To secure this was the evident purpose of the petition and it may be inferred the bridge people have nothing to fear from an impartial consideration of all interests involved. The language employed may have been unnecessarily harsh, but there is the excuse that heroic measures appeared necessary to call the attention of the secretary of war to the fact that whatever investigation had been made was one-sided and ignored the larger interests affected.

Theatrical men, especially in Europe, have been disturbed by the burning of the theater at Basle, Switzerland, which was considered one of the finest play houses built and thoroughly equipped for fire protection. Fortunately there was no performance going on when the fire broke out, for the blaze burst through the so-called fireproof curtain, which it literally melted. The circumstances somewhat resembled the burning of the Iroquois theater at Chicago and it seemed to show that the most approved appliances are powerless to check flames. The very perfection of the theater was responsible for the blaze, which started from a short circuit in the electrical apparatus. The managers fear that the possibility of such disasters will discourage theatergoers and reduce the profits of the season.

Mr. Booker Washington has often enjoyed the hospitality of white men, but the conditions were reversed at a dinner given to him in Cambridge the other day, for black men were the hosts and the guests included such eminent white men as the mayor of the city and the president of Harvard college. The negro toastmaster introduced President Eliot with the statement "For the first time in history a president of Harvard puts his feet under the mahogany with black men." President Eliot immediately corrected him by saying that he had frequently had the pleasure of dining with colored gentlemen. His question, "Have you ever had anything but an equal opportunity at Harvard?" was greeted by prolonged cheers, for Harvard has several distinguished colored graduates. If the Cambridge incident is repeated in the south, President Eliot cannot be accused of being a Republican and attempting to arouse race prejudice, for he has usually voted the Democratic ticket. But he is a courageous man, even when he runs counter to prejudices.

Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia has vetoed a number of ordinances for the opening of 30-foot streets in that city. Accompanying his last veto of this sort he sent a message to councils declaring he will not sanction the opening of any new street less than 40 feet wide. The mayor has taken a commendable stand, though he might well have placed his limit 10 feet higher as relating to new streets. In built-up sections where ground is extremely valuable there is excuse for streets 40 feet wide, but not in sparsely populated sections. The congestion of traffic in the narrow streets of the business districts of eastern cities should be a sufficient warning against the creation of any more such contracted thoroughfares. When they begin to be lined with skyscrapers it costs too much to make them wider.

Higher Tax Rate Proposed.

It is announced that the finance committee is already at work on the tax levy and appropriation ordinances for next year and that their calculations are on the basis of 15 mills. This is a steep rate on the high valuations of city property, but the complaint against it will be governed by the use that is made of the money. The people will stand to be heavily taxed if they are given full value for what they pay; good government, good water, good streets, good sanitation, good parks and all that. They will complain, as they have a right to do, if they do not get these things, though the tax rate is materially lower than that proposed.

There is nothing gained by arbitrarily reducing the tax rate. That fact is fully demonstrated by the present situation in this city and by the precisely similar conditions in Philadelphia. The treasuries are virtually empty and the corporations are dependent upon current revenues from vicarious sources and loans to meet the bills for the remainder of the fiscal year. This method is more expensive in the long run than the levy of an adequate tax in the beginning. Besides, it affords a pretext, as in the case of Pittsburgh at present, for a higher levy the next year to meet the deficit, though the deficiency is quite likely to be carried along or recreated.

Pittsburgh has not had good government this year. There have been many things open to just complaint in the public works and public safety departments. We do not believe these were due in any degree to the shortage of appropriations, for the expenditures have been so large as to practically exhaust available funds at the end of the first six months. Twelve and a half mills should have produced more than enough revenue for one-half of the year, else 15 mills is far short of the requirements for the full term. The money has been spent recklessly and the city employes have been engaged in political supplication when they should have been serving the public.

As we have said, restricting the tax levy to less than actual necessities require does not compel economy in administration. It merely affords a refuge from criticism for maladministration. Are the streets filthy? There is the ready plea of insufficient funds. Is police protection deficient? There is not enough money to maintain an efficient force. So it goes through the catalogue of municipal ills. Good administration lies beyond the millage rate or the total of appropriations. It is a matter of system and personnel. Good government is a product of right system and honest administrators. It is possible under a wrong system with exceptionally capable and honest governors and it is possible under a right system with indifferent officials, but it is not possible when the system is bad and the executive authority worse.

Highwaymen Down Beaver Way.

The robbery at the Monaca tollhouse and the shooting of the aged tollkeeper is the climax to a series of crimes in Beaver county that have put the people of that section in a fever of excitement. Several robberies were perpetrated on trains of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Pennsylvania roads. There were several other hold-up cases with pedestrians and finally the desperate assault upon Mr. Jolly, who, despite his years, made a lively defense. None of the robbers have been captured.

Here is a first class field for rural policemen, or state constabulary. If the state had a corps of trained officers they would not be long in running down the Beaver county highwaymen, or running them out of the state. There is not much that local police or constables can do in cases of this kind. They cannot leave their ordinary duties to trail the desperadoes to and fro. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad has assigned a number of detectives to that territory, but their particular business is to protect the railroad. Their presence has, apparently, caused the highwaymen to leave the railroad and ply their nefarious business upon the highways. There are no special officers to protect the public roads in like manner, but there should be. The powers of county commissioners to employ such officers, we have learned in Allegheny county, are limited. There is work here for the approaching session of the state legislature.

Russian Barbarities.

Carl Joubert's account of "Ninety-six Hours in a Russian Prison" is a story of brutality and inhumanity almost incredible. The prison where he was confined at his own request was one, apparently, where only mild offenders were confined—those punished by the knout. According to his report, however, this proved to be a death penalty for several women who were whipped before his eyes.

After reading Joubert's book one does not wonder that abolition of the whipping post, by the recent order of Czar Nicholas, was hailed by the peasantry as a great boon. Neither does one wonder that the Russian peasants are not in love with their government, nor the privilege of fighting its battles in distant Manchuria. In no other country does the extreme of brutality wear the livery of justice as it has done in Russia for generations. The stories told by George Kennan of "Darkest Russia" are none of them worse than this late account of Carl Joubert's, and the only mitigating circumstance is that some of the abuses recounted by both have been ordered stopped by royal decrees. As to whether they have actually stopped, that is another question.

Since the beginning of the war in the far east Russia has repeatedly shown surprise and resentment that popular sympathy throughout the civilized world is principally with Japan. The Russian press has declared that Japanese barbarity is covered with only a thin veneer of civilization, and that declaration has been advanced as a reason why Russia should be preferred. Apparently the Russians are not aware that civilization is of the opinion that Russian barbarity is covered by only a thin veil of secrecy and that its inhuman practices are abhorrent to more enlightened peoples. In fine, if it were not for the humane concessions by the czar, one would conclude that the enormity of Russian offenses against humanity is not realized in that country, but that the knout, exile, massacre and other barbarities are regarded as quite the proper thing.

Kuropatkin's Defiance.

If Gen. Kuropatkin's lengthy address to his troops, issued as orders of the day, means anything it means that he deems the time ripe to take the offensive. He says the time has come to go forward, that the Russian army in Manchuria is now large enough to take the aggressive, though he warns his troops that the enemy who has the insolence to "dream of complete victory" can be overcome only by an army determined to conquer and prepared to fight hard for victory.

Supposing that Gen. Kuropatkin means what he says, the world is likely to have a new demonstration in modern military science. It has seen how well the Japanese can fight when assaulting and how thoroughly the Russians can prepare defenses. It is now to be shown how the Russians will fight outside the breastworks and how cleverly the Japanese can defend them. It has been a part of the Japanese plan as they advanced to fortify their positions and if they are forced backward they will repeat the Russian maneuver of going from one fortified point to another. They have the advantage of having inspected the Russian defensive works and with their faculty for imitation they may be expected to adopt anything they have found that is good.

It is not necessary, however, to speculate at any great length upon the Japanese defense of successive positions, or the probability that Marshal Ovama may prove as skillful in retreat as Gen. Kuropatkin. They must first be beaten before they begin the retrograde movement. Kuropatkin's confidence that he has a sufficient force to take the aggressive and maintain it may not be justified by the result when the battle is joined. The Japanese have been as busy as the Russians in bringing up reinforcements since the battle of Liao-Yang and their facilities are superior. The battle of Mukden and Tie-Ling may be a repetition of Kiu-Lieu-Cheng, if it is fought. It, instead, there is the second battle of Liao-Yang it may not be a repetition of the first, for the attacking army may be repelled. At any rate the world interest in Manchuria will be roused by Kuropatkin's avowal of readiness to take the offensive, because the next engagement may be decisive of the campaign.

The Limits of Auto Speeding.

The fatality in Saturday's automobile races on the 300-mile course over Long Island roads would not have attracted the attention it did but for the opposition that had developed to holding the speed contest on a public highway. Fatalities are common enough in automobile racing to escape notice and even the load killed by running off a bank two days before and meeting death in front of a locomotive was excused on the ground that the chauffeur was intoxicated. Apparently no allowance was made for the speed at which the huge machine would have been run by a sober driver. But the death of the machinist in the race was accentuated as an example, for Long Island people had tried to stop the race on the ground that it would be dangerous and the newspapers had been attacking the automobile club, for allowing an event so useless and prejudicial to the sport.

The contest Saturday was a typical one. It is the fad just now to run machines to the limit of their speed regardless of consequences which should have long ago proved a warning. A locomotive makes a mile a minute under favorable conditions, but its course is determined by rails on a well-built road bed, while the automobile is directed over uneven roads and around curves which a locomotive engineer would consider dangerous. The locomotive traveling 300 miles would pass as many hundred signals which could be used to convey warnings and the hand at the throttle would be trained by long service. But the very risk attending the freedom of automobile racing seems to add to its charm to the "daredevil" owners who take chances themselves and endanger others.

Before the speed of the bicycle was fully determined, road races were the fashion and ordinary traffic had to give way to contesting teams which monopolized the roads for days during practice and the actual racing. But public sentiment caused a reaction and human life is no longer endangered in this manner. It is useless to compare the opposition to such races in the highway to the early prejudice against the locomotive, for except at grade crossings trains never menaced the general public. If automobile drivers wish to risk their lives on private tracks the public would not have much grievance, but they should not be allowed to endanger a crowd even on a public track, and they never should be given the use of the highway for testing the speed of the machines. A reaction will surely come against all automobiling unless there shall be stringent regulation to protect human life and property.

One by one the day dreams of Pennsylvania Democrats are dissipated. They have dropped from the effort to get an additional congressman or two to an attempt to break into the state legislature.

Candidate Parker, declaring in favor of the McKinley style of porch speeches, overlooks the fact that McKinley had previously made speeches all over the country.

Kaiser Wilhelm exhibited keen foresight in sending congratulations to the Baltic fleet before it sailed. He does not expect to have an opportunity when it returns.

Judge Herrick will take the stump, but Lieut.-Gov. Higgins' home town has long been famous for its manufacture of stump-pullers.

There is a promise of a 15-mill levy next year, but there is also a prospect of better administration of public affairs after that.

One death more or less will have no effect upon the automobile racing craze, nor upon the legitimate use of motor carriages.

A bunch of graft has been uncovered in Buffalo. This is quite the proper thing now in municipal amusements.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—State Superintendent of Elections George W. Morgan is pretty nearly the busiest man in New York these days. The tramps are returning to their winter quarters in the Bowery, and they expect the privilege of voting, just as other summer tourists who have spent the season in Newport or in the mountains and still hold their residence in the city for purposes of honest citizenship. But there is a difference. The tourists who go out along the highways and byways in search of the elusive handout and who return to New York in the winter—because it is easier to pick up meals and lodging along the busy streets than in the country roads—are never really citizens of any place in particular. They call the Bowery home, but the Bowery covers a lot of territory, and several voting precincts. The stories of colonizaiton we hear before each recurring election time are usually based on the return of the hoboes. They congregate in the cheap lodging houses and depend upon the soup kitchens to furnish them their daily bread. They are really citizens of nowhere and everywhere. Their only thought in registering is that they may be able to bull the vote market and get the price of a debauch thereby. Naturally, Mr. Morgan would like to eliminate this class of voters. It is a part of his duty, but it is a duty that has many difficulties. He cannot prove, for instance, that the hoboes ever voted anywhere else, and there are plenty of men to swear that they have spent the whole of the year in the city, if need be. It is necessary for the voters to reside 30 days in the voting precinct, and the hoboes are always able to prove this one point. They trust to luck and the Tammany district leader to make the balance of their story good. It is this floating vote that causes much trouble on election day, but even so courageous an official as Mr. Morgan has never been able to wholly eradicate it. So long as it is protected by Tammany it will continue to cast its illegal vote and thus help to perpetuate Tammany influence and Tammany methods in the city. Mr. Morgan says the hobo vote will not be greater than usual this year, but there is no perceptible reduction.

Miladi Now Carries a Cane.

If you would be really up-to-date, and all that a society girl should be, you will have to send immediately for a cane. Two women at Newport are carrying canes, consequently all must follow suit. "The lady and the cane" has so far not appeared in Fifth avenue, but time will remedy the defect, as the migration from Newport is now on and winter homes will soon be open. The first woman at Newport to affect the walking stick was Mrs. J. C. Mallory, and now her friend, Mrs. Casimir Derham, has joined her in the novelty. They are creating quite a sensation with their daily promenades, swinging sticks man-fashion. However, as Mr. Harry Lehr, the social arbiter, has not yet set the seal of his approval on the innovation, a breathless public waits to see if it shall be given his imperial O. K. before getting into the swim.

The Shortsighted New Yorkers.

After a man becomes thoroughly permeated with the New York atmosphere he can never see beyond Harlem. Therefore, it is not strange the New York dramatic critic cannot see beyond the confines of Broadway. New Yorkers are the most bigoted people in the world, and by New Yorkers is meant many people who have not yet forgotten all the faces that surrounded them in their youth at Oshkosh and Pottstown. All of which is to introduce the fact that we are sagely told there will be seen five new plays this week. Among them are included "The Sorceress," with Mrs. Patrick Campbell as the star. This play came from Paris via London, and has been running in Washington for a week, but New York dramatic critics call that "trying it on the dog." Then there is George Ade's "Shogun," which has made a success in Chicago. Of the other three not one is to be given its initial production in New York. All have proven successes elsewhere. But this fact is not recognized here. Nothing theatrical has happened until it is seen in a Broadway house and has been written up—or down—by the wise men of the east.

Herbert's Place in Music.

"I cannot understand why Mr. Whitney did not give Mme. Schumann-Heinck a Herbert opera," was the remark of a well-known music lover today. The music of Victor Herbert was under discussion, and the gentleman quoted above declared him to be the greatest writer of light opera in the world today. "Mr. Herbert has been very unfortunate in his books, but there can be no question about the quality of his score," the speaker continued. And one who cares to take the trouble to investigate will find this the consensus of opinion. What Mr. Herbert wants is a good partner, a librettist who can build up stories to fit the exquisite music of the composer. The former Pittsburgh conductor opened his season here at the New Amsterdam theater tonight, and the large crowd that applauded his music shows he has a very strong hold upon the lovers of music.

Women Who Play the Game.

Poker playing among women is not uncommon in New York. Women in other cities play a little, but in New York it is the regular evening's amusement in many circles of society. Some pretty good games are played, too. A man of my acquaintance told me the other night of a game he had gotten into by accident which cost him $45, "and I was more than $100 in before my luck changed," he said. It takes a mighty shrewd man to play the game with women—and he is a diplomat who can win their money and still hold their friendship. Out in Harlem there are several women who make a living by letting their apartments to poker parties made up wholly of women. The rakeoff is the same as in a professional game, and luncheon and drinks are served free to the players. If the police should drop in accidentally it could easily be explained that it was "just a little game among friends." That makes it hard for the police to stop the game.

Mr. Payne and Mr. Hanna.

Mr. Payne was primarily a business man and secondarily a politician. Engaged in large enterprises he was skillful and successful. He had quick perceptions and high executive ability. For politics he had a natural gift, rare aptitude and a passionate fondness. In his own state—a state of great intelligence and independence—he was for many years a foremost leader. He was long identified with the national committee of his party, and during his later life was one of its master spirits. The intimate associate of Mr. Hanna, he had something of the quality of that vigorous and aggressive chieftain.—Philadelphia Press.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

There is a why and a wherefore for everything, and they are usually worth looking up.

Things are all the more interesting when they are understood, and for most part they are not hard to understand.

There is the subject of astronomy, for instance, which is thought by most people to be entirely out of the range of the average mind.

Such is not the case, for anyone of ordinary intelligence can readily become familiar with the stars and planets, or at least gain a speaking acquaintance, and that is all that is necessary, except for the scientist.

Are you on speaking terms with any of the planets or big stars? Do you give Jupiter a hearty greeting these evenings as he comes swinging up from the murky east, bright and shining as a new dollar?

Maybe you don't know Jupiter when you see him, and maybe you don't care a snap.

Well, you ought to, for he is a most interesting character, and you will soon discover that he is well worth knowing and very easy to get acquainted with and there is no danger of being snubbed by him.

* * * * *

Isn't it strange, surprisingly so, that so few people can call even the particularly bright stars and planets by name, while all can name so many people who are not worth knowing, and can give long strings of gossip that had better be suppressed.

If teachers were to give their pupils one night lesson each week the little folks would become acquainted with the brightest stars in one term and soon be able to trace the outlines of the more familiar constellations.

You may think this would be of no use to the youngsters, or at least not of as much use as the study of some of the special features or fads that have been added to our regular school courses.

When asked what use these will be to pupils teachers will say that they serve to discipline the mind and excite noble thoughts.

What is grander or more beautiful or more wonderful than the starry heavens?

There is not anything in sight, or within the grasp of human thought, that can compare with it, nor is there anything that can be learned more easily or that will have a more wholesome influence on the individual.

One who is on speaking terms with the stars can hardly become wicked or degenerate.

* * * * *

Suppose you become acquainted with but a single star each clear night, you will make at least 150 new acquaintances during the year, and they will prove to be trusty and worthy friends for life, for they will never desert you and never cease to cheer you and brighten your hopes of an existence in a more beautiful world when you leave this life.

You can scarcely imagine, in fact you can't imagine, the satisfaction that is experienced by one who is able to recognize and call by name the brightest of the suns of the great universe, for all the stars are suns, and the brighter ones much larger than our sun.

And yet it is so easy to become acquainted with these, and it is such a great pleasure to call them by name. And there is so much of interest attached to them that after making their acquaintance you will find them most delightful neighbors, for you can go to them in mind and thought and with the learned astronomer as guide and interpreter your visits will be most delightful.

The ancients took great interest in the stars, and if we believe history, those who were on the most intimate terms with them were the noblest and the best of all.

* * * * *

The mathematics of astronomy is for the scientist, so that it is not necessary for you to be a mathematician or even a good scholar in order to become acquainted with the stars, to learn their courses and to know the times of their comings and of their goings.

Some imagine that a telescope is essential in the study of astronomy. But it is not, for there is enough in sight to keep you employed as long as you live.

Indeed, the telescope is a very disappointing instrument. Instead of making a star to appear as big as a cartwheel it only defines it more clearly without enlarging its disc. And then you cannot see it in its relations to other stars, which spoils the effect entirely.

An opera glass is about all that an amateur astronomer needs as an aid to the eye, while the beginner is better off without this, for the first thing is to learn the names of the brighter stars and the constellations, or families to which they belong.

After this has been accomplished will be time enough to go into details, but the average individual does not care to do so, but prefers to enjoy the society of his distant friends and to know them as they appear to the naked eye.

How many stars do you know by sight, or even by reputation?

* * * * *

Suppose you make the acquaintance of Jupiter, the dean of the planets. His reception hours now are from 8 p. m. to daylight, and he will be glad to make your acquaintance, and you will find him a most delightful entertainer.

Every fair evening you will find this splendid old fellow coming up out of the haze that shrouds the eastern horizon. You can't help recognize him, for he is the biggest, brightest object in sight. And you needn't be afraid to hail him and to call him by name, nor to talk about him to his face. As a matter of fact, he enjoys this sort of thing, or at least he seems to, for the more sociable you are the brighter he smiles.

Jupiter is no flirt, for he doesn't even wink or blink as the stars do, nor make faces at you as the moon is in the habit of doing. Altogether, he is quite correct in his manners and of steady habits.

Jupiter has a little family of his own to which you may get an introduction later on. And then he has several companions, of which Saturn, Mars, Venus and Earth are the more prominent. Since Earth, which is our abiding place, is only one-ninth the size of Jupiter, we can hardly imagine what his people, our cousins, are like, but we may find out during our journey through the eternities.

Value of Potable Water.

Two centers of population which contain not far from 2,300,000 inhabitants have experienced a remarkable decrease in death rates which were moderately low before the improvement made in their water supply by the opening of the new tunnel extending five miles into the lake at Cleveland, and the completion of the drainage canal at Chicago, which turned the sewage of the Chicago river back into the Desplaines and thence into the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, and so diverted an enormous amount of filth from Lake Michigan. Both cities report unprecedentedly small mortality lists, relatively to their population, and in both the diseases which are especially troublesome to health officers are conspicuous by their absence, or the infrequency of outbreaks even in the quarters most subject to such sources of suffering and death.—Cleveland Leader.

Bribers and Bribed.

A few of the bribed are in prison for a crime that could not occur but for the bribers. Not one of the latter has been landed in prison by Folk. Men are punished for accepting bribes, but, legally, nobody has been found who bribed them. This result fails deplorably short. The prosecution has obtained half results, or, as many view the situation, considerably less. As long as wealthy bribers can hand out their boodle and go unwhipt of justice, as in these instances, they will be able to find and use a corruptible small fry. Whatever excuse may be offered for the failure pointed out, it exists, and is a reproach upon any who may be responsible for it.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Pernicious Patrol Wagon.

The startling statement comes from Philadelphia that youthful depravity has increased since the establishment of the juvenile court, because the law-breaking class of youngsters like to ride in the patrol wagon. The community ought to be thankful that the pernicious possibilities of degeneracy in the patrol wagon have thus been exposed. Philadelphia must take rank ahead of her sister cities in thus discovering a peril hitherto unsuspected by all—the danger of public morals lurking in the insidious police patrol.—Baltimore American.

Political Play.

Some of the London papers regard the president's expression of willingness to call another conference at The Hague as "a bit of political play incident to the presidential campaign." It would be interesting to know how they would have regarded a refusal by the president to comply with the request of the Interparliamentary union, or a declination to commit himself.—Columbus Dispatch.

Interstate Traffic

Col. Edwin P. North.

The following extracts from a paper read before the engineering congress at St. Louis last week give some idea of the development of internal traffic in the United States and the freight rates as compared with those in Europe:

Although there is a general, if not exact, knowledge that the average yield of wheat an acre in the United States (15 bushels) is only about 43 per cent of the yield in the United Kingdom, decidedly less than half the yield of Holland and Belgium, 61 per cent of the German yield, and 71 per cent of that of France, the assertion is so constantly made that the phenomenal prosperity of this country is due to its superior fertility and unequaled natural advantages that there is a nearly universal acceptance of this untrustworthy statement as to fertility. Our natural advantages are not sufficiently greater than those of our neighbors to explain our superior prosperity, although the possession of a large area of from cheap to free land has undoubtedly been an important factor in our increased population and wealth.

In one great source of national wealth, however, namely, cost of transportation, which is not a natural product, the United States has an undisputed advantage over all other countries. Shortly before his death Mulhall said that the average rate received by railroads of different countries for transporting a ton of freight one mile was, reduced to cents: United Kingdom, 2.80; Italy, 2.50; Russia, 2.40; France, 2.20; Germany, 1.64; Belgium, 1.60; Holland, 1.56; the United States 0.8. Acceptance of this statistician's figures as approximately correct will immediately show that our low cost of internal transportation has probably been the principal cause of our augmented wealth; an augmentation that was greater in the decade ending with 1900 than during the 80 years preceding 1870. For, not only does a low freight rate allow more to be divided between producer and consumer, but it has a more potent effect in inviting the production of commodities which, with higher freight charges, could not reach consumers; thus adding greatly to the employment offered to labor and capital.

There is no doubt that our railroad freight rates are the lowest in the world, and this is probably true also of our coastwise freight rates. Nor is there reason to doubt that the low cost of assembling and distributing our commodities has had an important influence on their production and consumption. It is noticeable that we have reached this distinctive position as transporters with the highest wages paid for labor known, and until lately with a higher cost for materials than our neighbors and competitors. But both the high wages and high prices have, by stimulating production and consumption, added to the volume of freight moved and reduced its cost.

Excepting a few instances, and then but for a short time, the rivers, harbors and canals improved and built by our government have been absolutely free from charges for their use. While a large proportion of the money expended for improvements has gone to important centers and the main lines of distribution, minor streams and small harbors have not been neglected, as advised by many who vainly endeavored to direct public opinion. On the contrary, they have secured about their full share of consideration and the country has not been robbed by the city to the loss of both.

The British government, according to the report of a "committee on contract packets," made in 1853, subsidized its main lines of steamers "to afford a rapid, frequent and punctual communication with those distant ports which feed the main arteries of British commerce," etc.; refusing aid to, if not oppressing, internal communication. On the other hand, the government of the United States, and also individual states, counties and localities, subsidized its turnpikes, watercourses and railroads almost entirely for the improvement of internal communications, and neglected or oppressed our efforts to reach distant ports. England is preeminent as a ship building and ship sailing country, but its people pay the highest internal freight rates known. America now has a contemptible merchant marine, but its internal freight is handled at a rate unapproached in other countries. If, as has been lately urged, our government was unable to develop at one time both foreign and internal communications, it has apparently adopted the most profitable alternative, though our annual payments to foreigners for over-sea freights are said to exceed the receipts from either customs dues or the internal revenue tax.

The United States possesses no noticeable superiority in natural resources, and is handicapped by the necessity of finding money to do in a part of a century that for which other countries have taken nearly a thousand years. It has in the aggregate exhibited a superiority in general honesty of purpose and in the broad-mindedness of its legislators, both national and local, it is largely through legislation, notably and peculiarly in its help to all schemes for increasing wealth by diminishing the cost of interchange between producers and consumers, that this country has attained its superiority. From the fairly equal distribution of subsidies and direct payments between waterways and railroads there has issued a system of mutually beneficent rivalry, in that the railroads often own boat lines and the boat lines have owned railroads, which has given a higher remuneration to the producer and a lower cost to the consumer than would have been possible under any other system.

The Iron Trade Review publishes this comparison of freight charges here and in Europe:

The average cost of moving freight in various countries has recently been stated to be: Great Britain, $2 39 the 100 ton-miles; Austria, $2 05; France, $2; Germany, $1 88; Russia, $1 75; the United States, 72 cents. These figures place the American railroads so far in advance of their European counterparts that "there is no second." The London and Northwestern is one of the best operated of the English roads, and here the cost is placed at $1.49, the average trainload being 72 tons. With an average trainload of 387 tons the New York Central exhibits a cost of 41.5 cents, while the Pennsylvania, with 518 tons, operates at a cost of 40 cents.

A Positive Calamity.

Expectations of a bumper chestnut crop this year will probably not be realized if the same conditions exist in other places as in the vicinity of Oil City. The boys and the farmers, too, who have gathered a great many of the nuts during the past three or four days, find that while they look good from the outside and that they are remarkably free from worms, fully one-third of the nuts seem to have been frozen before the burr was cracked open by the frost or shaken down by the high winds following. The freeze that burned all growing vegetables and injured corn and buckwheat some two weeks ago came at a time when the nuts were still in the milk, and the meat of those frozen have the appearance of having been soaked in water for days, although the shell is of a good color. In numbers, this section probably never knew a larger crop, but this unexpected blight will probably make them as dear as ever at holiday time.—Oil City Derrick.

Church Ceremony at Milwaukee Followed by Private Services at the Grave.

CABINET MEMBERS PRESENT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 9.—Henry Clay Payne was buried today in Forest Home cemetery, after 25,000 persons had seen the body as it lay in state at the city hall. Mrs. Payne and members of the funeral party who accompanied the body from Washington took a farewell view of the departed at noon. At 3 o'clock, under an escort of 200 letter carriers of Milwaukee, the procession moved to All Saints Episcopal church. The active pallbearers were eight letter carriers, who were employes of the Milwaukee office when Mr. Payne was postmaster of Milwaukee. The honorary pallbearers included Secretaries Paul Morton, Victor H. Metcalf and James Wilson, Senators Spooner and Quarles, Judge James H. Jenkins, George R. Peck, Elmer Dover, Harry S. New and a score of prominent citizens of Milwaukee.

A large delegation from the Chicago postoffice, headed by Postmaster Coyne, was at the cathedral, as were delegations from various Milwaukee organizations with which Mr. Payne was connected.

The funeral party was met at the church entrance by Bishop I. N. Nicholson, his assistants and a surpliced choir of 40 voices. The full Episcopal services for the dead were read by Bishop Nicholson. During the services the hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Abide With Me," were sung by the choir. The services at the grave were private.

Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw arrived in Milwaukee this morning. He accompanied Mrs. Payne and other members of the funeral party to the city hall.

POLICE INTERFERE WITH MANY SUNDAY FROLICS

Bluecoats Make Many Raids Upon Poker Games and Speakeasies.

Alleged speakeasies and gambling houses came in for particular attention at the hands of the police of both cities yesterday. A number of places were raided, and in almost every instance beer, whisky, poker outfits and prisoners fell into the hands of the law.

The Hazel Glen club, which had quarters at 17 Rome street, was raided by plain clothes officers. John Devlin, the alleged president, and Thomas Joyce, said to be secretary, along with 15 others, were locked up in the Oakland police station. Devlin and Joyce are charged with being the proprietors. Twenty-eight cases of beer and five gallons of whisky were found in the rooms. The same officers raided the house of Noble Stroup in Dyke street and Stroup was locked up.

Capt. Pater Welsh and a squad of bluecoats raided a house at 2831 Mulberry alley. A poker game was in progress, and the officers confiscated cards, chips, dice and players. William Reynolds, the supposed proprietor, and a number of his colored friends were locked up. Reynolds is an ex-policeman.

Lieut. John Bolland headed a squad of Allegheny officers who swooped down on a supposed speakeasy at Jackson and Fremont streets. Five visitors and a quantity of liquid refreshments were secured. The alleged proprietor escaped. The North Side officers also arrested Mary Robins, who is charged with keeping a disorderly house at 506 Chestnut street. Four visitors were also taken into custody. The Robins woman was fined $10 and costs and the visitors $5 each. James Graham paid $25 and costs for keeping an alleged disorderly house at 1846 Second avenue.

Inspector W. J. Boyle and Capt. A. M. Teeters of the East Liberty police station last night raided an alleged disorderly house on the hillside in Beechwood boulevard near the Lincoln avenue bridge and arrested Mrs. Mary Medge and Nick Oslatz and 12 visitors. All are Austrians. Singing, dancing, music playing, beer and whisky drinking and fighting are among the specific charges.

Police last night raided the alleged gambling house of Steve Shekitz, 3014 Smallman street, and arrested the proprietor and eight visitors. Shekitz is charged with keeping a gambling house and the visitors with gambling.

MURDER OF THOMAS WRIGHT COMMITTED FOR REVENGE

Victim of Westmoreland County Crime Was Decoyed to His Death by a Note.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 9.—The murder of Thomas Wright at No. 1 plant of the Jamison Coal and Coke Company yesterday morning, instead of being the result of a holdup, as at first supposed, is now believed to have been committed in a spirit of revenge.

Wright was a witness at the recent trial of Edgar Floyd, who was found guilty of murdering George Uhring at Bessemer.

Shortly before the trial a letter was written from the jail to Wright in which he was advised not to testify against Floyd on penalty of his life. This letter was brought to the district attorney's office. Wright promised to give the true story of the crime upon being told that he would be protected.

Late Friday night he was decoyed to a piece of woods near the works by a note supposed to have been written by a woman. Early the next morning he was found dead with a bullet wound at the base of the skull.

TIME TO ADVANCE, SAYS KUROPATKIN

Declares, in Order of Day, That His Army Is Sufficiently Strengthened.

MUST RELIEVE PORT ARTHUR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 9.—Following is the text of an order of the day issued by Gen. Kuropatkin and dated Mukden, October 2:

"More than seven months ago the enemy treacherously fell upon us at Port Arthur before war had been declared. Since then by land and sea Russian troops have performed many heroic deeds of which their fatherland may justly be proud. The enemy, however, is not only not overthrown, but in his arrogance continues to dream of complete victory.

"The troops of the Manchurian army, in unvarying good spirits, hitherto have not been numerically strong enough to defeat the Japanese army. Much time is necessary for overcoming all the difficulties of strengthening the active army, so as to enable it to accomplish with complete success the arduous but honorable task imposed upon it. It is for this reason that, in spite of the repeated repulse of Japanese attacks upon our positions at Taitchekiao, Liandnansian and Liao-Yang, I did not consider that the time had arrived to take advantage of these successes and to begin a forward movement, and I therefore gave the order to retreat.

"The emperor had assigned for the conflict with Japan forces sufficient to assure us victory. All difficulties in transporting these forces over a distance of 10,000 versts are being overcome. In the course of seven months hundreds of thousands of men and tens of thousands of horses and carts and millions of poods of stores have been coming uninterruptedly by rail from European Russia and Siberia to Manchuria. Heretofore the enemy, in operating, has relied on his great forces and disposing his armies so as to surround us, and chosen, as he deemed fit, his time for attack; but now the moment to go to meet the enemy, for which the whole army has been longing, has come, and the time has arrived for us to compel the Japanese to do our will, for the forces of the Manchurian army are strong enough to begin a forward movement. Whatever be the sacrifice necessary to this end, bear in mind the importance of victory to Russia; and above all remember how necessary victory is, the more speedily to relieve our brothers at Port Arthur, who for seven months have heroically maintained the defense of the fortress entrusted to their care.

"The illustrious head of the Russian land, together with the whole of Russia, prays for you. The will of God be with us all."

Postal Telegraph Company Completes Two Lines to the East Over P. R. R.

The Postal Telegraph Company has just completed and put into service two wires in its new long-distance line over the Pennsylvania railroad's right-of-way between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Heretofore, since the Postal obtained the use of the Pennsylvania route, it has been using the railroad company's wires. This gives the company two routes east from Pittsburgh now, the other being its "pike" route, which has been in use for years.

A number of additional wires are to be strung along the new route as business demands. The wires are copper and the workmanship and equipment is said to be of the most modern character.

ON THE SAFETY OF OVER-EATING.

The Rule of Choosing the Lesser of Two Evils Applies to the Way You Eat.

I want to know how a man is to know when he has had enough?

The Pilgrim Fathers, I believe, had a quaint saying to the effect that you should always rise from the table feeling as if you could eat some more.

But the question is, how much more?

Just when to stop?

That's the point.

The rule is wrong, because it's no rule at all.

It is inexact and unscientific.

It is likely to lead to the dangerous habit of eating too little.

And eating too little—or digesting too little, which amounts to the same thing—is the cause of nine-tenths of the diseases from which humanity suffers today.

What is disease?

It is simply uneven balance between waste and repair.

Some organ lacks strength to carry on the special work for which it was created.

Where shall it find the strength it lacks?

In drugs?

Ten thousand times, NO!

Better die than become a hopeless drug fiend.

No; in food.

"But," you say, "I eat a plenty of good food every day!"

True, dear friend, but you don't digest it.

And food, undigested, is mere poison.

So, to make food do you good, you must take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The great thing about Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is, that their action does not depend upon stimulative druggery.

They cannot create a habit.

They contain no ingredients to "pick-you up," "tone up your nervous system" or furnish whip energy, by calling out your vital reserve force.

They create new strength, force and energy—out of your Food.

If taken starving, they will do you no good at all.

So eat to live, and live to eat, with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The curse of our present civilization is exhaustion.

And exhaustion, whether of brain, nerves, physical strength, or vital force, is caused by starvation.

Of two evils, it is better to overeat (and prevent indigestion with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets), than to rise from the table, not having eaten enough to repair the exhaustion of your vital forces.

For exhaustion or starvation leads to the most varied forms of sickness or disease, brought on by inability of the weakened vitality to counteract the disease—poisons and microbes.

Whereas, the well-fed and well-nourished person, without ever feeling the worse for it, can expose himself to dangers, the mere thought of which would drive the weak, starving dyspeptic into a panic fit.

Good food, well digested, is the great secret of a healthful existence here on earth.

So eat heartily, every day, of the best food you can get, and regulate the working of your digestive machinery with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

As a result, you will be astonished to find how much stronger and livelier you feel, how much more and better work you can do, how much more pleasure you will get out of life, and how your old enemy, that chronic trouble which has fastened upon your weak spot, wherever it is, will up and away, and ever after leave you in peace, health and comfort.

There's more truth than poetry in all this. Try it once.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—More than 8,000 fans gathered at the National league ball grounds today to bid farewell to the Cubs, and an inglorious farewell it was, for Pittsburgh, coming strong from behind, captured the game in the ninth inning 2 to 1. To Umpire Emslie can be directly traced the loss of the game by Chicago. Emslie's ankles, instead of his eyes, were the offending members, a batted ball striking them and a batsman getting a hit for what would have been an easy out. This unusual occurrence came in the ninth inning, when the score stood 1 to 0 in favor of Chicago.

Gilbert, who was the first man up in Pittsburgh's half of the ninth, was an easy out. Beaumont singled, and then Ritchey hit a little grass-cutter toward Evers. The ball hit Emslie, however, and Ritchey was safe, while Beaumont took second. Then McCormick rapped one to left on which Beaumont scored. Leach flied out to Evers and Bransfield hit a grounder to Tinker, who made a high throw to first, Ritchey scoring on the play.

Capt. Chance got around with the Cubs tally. He drew a pass, stole second and came home on McCarthy's single. Schultz and McChesney, two of Selee's new men, were applauded liberally. Score:

Young Corbett Scores Britt.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Young Corbett said today: "Jimmy Britt's action in taking on Joe Gans, after he had given me his sincere promise that I would be given the first match, has convinced me that I was the victim of a job in our last battle, when I was robbed of the decision. Britt is a sure thing proposition and I guess he has Gans right.

EWING RAFFERTY DOING WELL AT CENTER FOR TIGERS

Don Doyle and Herb Byram Divide Honors in Fall Baseball Series.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 9.—There has been a marked improvement in both offense and defensive play during the past week, and every position except end has been well looked after. The line has become much more unified in its attack and seldom allows the scrub or opposing team more than one first down in succession, the only gains of any account being made around the ends.

Ewing Rafferty has been tried at center and the change from guard seems to be a wise one, as it gives Short a chance to move to tackle, and in that position to carry the ball. His wonderful ability to keep his feet, combined with strength and speed, enable him to plunge for yards with half a team on his back.

The interclass baseball series, for championship of the university, resulted in a tie between 1905 and 1906, each having won three games. Don Doyle and Herb Byram pitched on the 1905 and 1906 teams, respectively, and honors were about evenly divided, Byram getting the most strikeouts and Doyle having the best number of runs scored against him. A constant improvement can, however, be detected in both these men, and they will make a strong nucleus for Princeton to begin on next spring.

The gun team has been called out by Capt. Stutesman and the first shoot brought out some good new material. The old men on the team are Stutesman, Frick, Gaines, Munn, Armstrong and McCreary, who can each average 40 out of 50 blue rocks.

J. L. Grimes, '05, of Pittsburgh, has called out the banjo and mandolin club, which in conjunction with the gun club, will take a long trip south this year. For some unaccountable reason, however, they will not go to Pittsburgh, though it is six years since the musical organization has been there.

Youngstown Has City Bowling League.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The City Bowling league was organized this afternoon with nine teams. They are the Struthers, Youngstown Iron Sheet and Tube Company, Hazletons, Odd Fellows, Elks, Office, Buckeyes, Eagles and Warner's stars. The officers elected were: President, E. R. Thompson; vice president, E. Westwood; treasurer, J. H. Sowers; secretary, William Evans. The season will begin October 17.

Professionals to Play Youngstown.

Keefe's team of professionals leave this morning for Youngstown, where they will play two games with the Ohio Works team. Manager Keefe expects to give the Ohio Works as good games as have been seen in Youngstown this season.

Hickory Plays at Wheeling.

The old-time Hickory team of Pittsburgh lost to the Kindiebergers at Wheeling yesterday, 4 to 6. Johnnie Welsh started to pitch for the locals but gave way to Bill Campbell, who did not allow a hit or a run.

Will Hold Sparrow Shoot.

The North Side Gun club will hold a sparrow shoot at its grounds, Davis avenue, Allegheny, Tuesday and wishes all shooters to be on hand at 1 o'clock.

FRED CLARKE DECLINES OFFERS

Princeton and Yale Desire Him to Coach Their Baseball Candidates Next Spring.

CALHOUN WANTED ON COAST

Princeton university has made Fred Clarke an offer to coach its baseball candidates next spring and so has Yale, but neither will be accepted. Clarke coached the Tiger candidates last spring and they won the intercollegiate championship, beating out Yale, and now the blue wants the man who helped so much to bring that about and who won the National league championships, take charge of its baseball hopefuls.

Clarke not only declines the offers from these colleges, but he refuses to coach any college baseball team in the future.

"I like working with the college boys," he said in discussing the coaching business, "but I do not have the time; I must pay attention to my affairs at home, and then I want to give as much attention as possible to my own team."

"Red" Calhoun received a letter yesterday from the manager of the San Francisco club, asking whether he has been reserved by Haverhill for next year, and, if so, if he would consent to negotiations being opened for his transfer to that place. Calhoun captained Haverhill, which won the championship of the New England league in a walk.

Billy Hamilton, who managed Haverhill, is dickering with Harrisburg of the Tri-State, and if he goes there he wants Calhoun with him. The Boston Americans wanted to purchase Calhoun from Haverhill, but the directors put the price entirely too high for his release to suit Boston.

Arch. Osborne, the Charleroi southpaw, who was Wilmington's leading slab artist this year, will winter at home. He has signed with the Toronto Eastern league club for next season.

Rightfielder Miller of Zanesville has been recommended to the Cincinnati club.

SCHOOL HOCKEY LEAGUE WILL HAVE MORE CLUBS

The Interscholastic Hockey league the coming season will be expanded into a four and possibly a five-club affair. Allegheny Prep. school will probably make the fourth club. The hockey season will open the first week in December, and by that time all the clubs will be reorganized.

Arch. Williams will captain Shadyside; Reisfar Pittsburgh High school, and Karl Mueller East Liberty academy. Games will probably be played either Tuesday or Wednesday and Saturday afternoons of each week, with a possibility of Friday night games.

Manager A. S. McSwigan of Duquesne garden goes to Canada this week for crack players to form the team that will represent Pittsburgh in the professional league.

Woman's Tourney Starts Today.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 9.—Eighty-five golfers will tee off tomorrow morning in the 18-hole qualifying stroke round play in the competition for the woman's championship of the United States on links of the Marion Cricket club at Haverford. The British champion, Miss Charolette Dod, will be on hand to measure strokes with some of the best woman golfers in this country.

Southern League Writer Likes Keefe.

A Birmingham (Ala.) writer in the Sporting News, discussing the good umpires who have left the Southern league, speaks of John Keefe, the Pittsburgher, thusly: "A better umpire never donned a mask in the south than Keefe. All patrons will testify to this fact, but he could not be bluffed and, consequently, was banished."

Sycamore Club Elects Officers.

The Sycamore club has elected the following officers: President, Hon. W. J. Josenhans; vice president, William Newell; secretary and treasurer, Joseph Rylin; directors, Leo Loughren, Joseph Rylin, Carl Stern, Charles Malley and William Newell.

KISKI'S FOOTBALL TEAM ARE A FORMIDABLE LOT

The large score Kiski ran up on the Johnstown Quakers Saturday has opened the eyes of the local preps. That Kiski will be a most formidable foe this year there is no doubt. Shadyside made as good a showing as could be expected against the strong Normal eleven at California. Pittsburgh High school, with little practice, got into the game and beat W. and J. academy by one touchdown and a goal. The weights of the Kiski players follow:

Corbett, center	170
Irons, right guard	165
Bakewell, left guard	160
Kumler, right tackle	185
Pfeifer, left tackle	180

MacMahon Hurt in Practice.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—William T. MacMahon of Pittsburgh has been ordered to give up football by the physician of the Yale eleven. MacMahon was kicked on the head last week in a practice game. He will leave Yale and take a rest.

SOLD WATCH FOR 17 CENTS.

Prisoners Say One of Number Disposed of $125 Timepiece Cheaply.

Joseph Munster of Negley run, who, the police say, stole a watch from the room of a guest at the Hotel Bottler, in Frankstown avenue, and sold it for 17 cents, is under arrest at the East Liberty police station, together with Julius Stean of Negley run, Emanuel Everham of Wall street, Toney Coleman of 124 Mayflower street and Thomas Flish of 64 Auburn street, who are held under suspicion of being implicated.

G. W. Barrett, a guest at the hotel, discovered late Saturday night that his room had been plundered of clothing and a $125 gold watch. The clothing was recovered by the police at the home of Munster, while the other prisoners declared Munster had sold the watch for 17 cents.

Wanted to Commit Suicide.

J. S. Powell, a cigarmaker of 3606 Brereton avenue, was arrested last night at the city stables in Tunnel street, where he announced he intended to commit suicide. At Central station two open penknives and a bottle of Jamaica ginger were found in his pockets.

SCHOOL STARS JOIN QUAKER TEAM

Two Halfbacks and Quarterback to Take Part in Practice This Week.

TWO PRINCETON MEN HURT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—U. of P. will be strengthened this week by three star players who have not yet been seen in the lineup. These are Greene and Folwell, halfbacks, and Stevenson, quarterback. All are freshmen and have not been permitted in the lineup because of delay in matriculating, through a misunderstanding of the requirements. Both Folwell and Greene are stars of the first magnitude, as was shown by their work during the past week in the daily scrimmages.

Folwell was one of the best players on the Haverford Grammar school eleven last fall, while Greene played halfback on Exeter academy with McCormick, now of Princeton. The greatest need is for Stevenson at quarterback. This young man has played rings around all other candidates for quarter, and will probably be the regular man soon.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The Lafayette game Wednesday will in the opinion of the coaches be a much harder contest than last year's, when Princeton won, 11 to 0. The Tigers will probably enter the game deprived of two of their strongest linesmen. Stannard received an injury in the Wesleyan game and his ankle has since kept him out of the scrimmage. Dillon, the stout veteran guard, is still disabled with a bad shoulder, which it is reported will keep him off the gridiron for the remainder of the season.

The playing of Simons, the new freshman from Wyoming seminary, at right halfback has been noted with satisfaction by the coaches.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Harvard men were greatly encouraged and at the same time greatly disappointed at the showing of their eleven against Maine yesterday. The encouraging features were the work of Wendell, a new man at halfback, the remarkable plunging of Mills and the snappy way in which the team was run. Wendell up to the middle of last week was absolutely unknown at Harvard. Then he appeared at the varsity, made a 40-yard run against the scrubs, duplicated the performance the next day, and on Saturday was put in Captain Hurley's place at right halfback, where he showed up brilliantly in every respect.

Pretty Polly Beaten by Outsider.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The Prix du Conseil, municipal, $20,000, the great event of autumn flat racing, resulted in a huge surprise, a rank outsider, Presto II., owned by Gaston Dreyfus, and ridden by Jockey Ransch, easily defeating the hitherto invincible English mare, Pretty Polly, whom even the French public backed extensively at 2 to 1. Presto II. took and held the lead from the start and won without effort. Pretty Polly and Zinfandel, another English crack, made a keen fight for second place. The winner paid 66 to 1.

PLENTY OF MONEY FOR SPEEDWAYS

City Has No Funds for Engine Houses or to Paint Point Bridge.

LET OVAL CONTRACT TODAY

"The contract will be let tomorrow for the regrading of the race track in Schenley park, better known as the Schenley oval," said President Wightman of select council and member from the Twenty-second ward, yesterday. "We wanted an engine house in the Twenty-second ward and were promised it, but it seems that promises count for nothing.

"It seems that we have money for sport but nothing for fire protection. I can't see why it is necessary to have the regrading of the race track done by contract. I hoped that it would be done by city employes and at least give a chance to employ men who are out of work, but the job goes to a contractor, and he will employ his own men. It is work that the city ought to do."

The improvement of the Schenley park oval, to which Mr. Wightman refers, is to cost in the neighborhood of $15,000. This amount of money was transferred from the Point bridge fund, and now the city engineers announce that there is not enough money left in the Point bridge fund to paint the bridge. They say that councils will have to make another appropriation to paint the bridge next year, as it is vitally necessary to keep the bridge well painted in order to prevent the iron from rusting.

The transfer of the $15,000 from the Point bridge fund to improve the Schenley park oval was bitterly opposed in councils at first, but was finally agreed to when Director Bigelow assured councils there was enough money remaining in the fund to make all repairs to the bridge. The expenditure of $15,000 on the race track was also opposed on the ground that it was for the benefit only of owners of fast horses and that the race track was controlled by a private driving club. In making the appropriations for this year the old councils struck out of the bill the sum asked for the race track, but Director Bigelow bided his time and took the money from the Point bridge fund, for which councils had made a special appropriation.

The city also built a fine speedway in Highland park this summer, while wings being taken from the East End district and put to work on the job.

RESISTED AMPUTATION AND DIED OF TETANUS

Crushed Thumb Caused Death of Brakeman—Inmate of County Home Found Dying.

George Tourbowitz, aged 19, of 2852 Carey alley, died at the South Side hospital yesterday afternoon of tetanus. He was a brakeman at Jones & Laughlin's and on September 2, in coupling up a train of hot metal cars, had the thumb of his left hand crushed. Ten days later tetanus developed and three days afterward he went to the hospital for treatment. He refused to submit to the amputation of the thumb and later his arm, to save his life, and the infection finally caused his death.

John Wolf, aged 46 and married, of Duquesne, was struck by the Duquesne limited on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Riverton station, at 9 o'clock last night, and instantly killed.

Michael Fleming, an inmate of the county home at Woodville, was found dying near Heidelberg, early yesterday morning, expiring in a wagon while being removed to the institution. He had wandered off the day before and becoming exhausted, lay down in a field. He was 67 years old and formerly lived in Braddock.

George Walker, a painter, of 6601 Roman avenue, was found dead at his home, early yesterday morning. He had been ill with heart disease for some years. He was a widower, aged 50.

The infant daughter of Mrs. Mary Cordell of 704 Bingham street, died of convulsions early yesterday morning.

YOHE ROUNDS OUT TERM OF SERVICE

General Superintendent of Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Has Been 21 Years With the Road.

STORY OF HIS STEADY RISE

J. B. Yohe, general superintendent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, has reached his majority in the service of that company. Just 21 years ago today he went with the "Little Giant" as trainmaster of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Youghiogheny division, the up-river lines of the local Vanderbilt road. He was the operating official to open this division to traffic, and it was largely through his personal efforts that from the start the "Pemickey" held an enviable reputation for "getting trains over the road."

For all matters relating to operation Mr. Yohe is today the main reliance of Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager of the Lake Erie, and it is an interesting coincidence that the first connection of the present operating head of the road should have been the result of the recommendation of an outsider who was later to assume the chief command of it.

In those days "the colonel," as he is popularly known nowadays, was managing his coke interests in the Connellsville region, and the P., McK. & Y. was just about ready to begin operations. W. C. Quincy, who was general manager of the Lake Erie line then, was looking for some good man to take entire charge of the new branch and get it into shape for handling the immense tonnage then in sight and which in later years has been larger than anticipated. Mr. Yohe was then chief dispatcher for the Pittsburgh & Western railroad, and was told of the position and given to understand he would be recommended for it. With characteristic promptness he resigned, literally burning his bridges behind him.

Mr. Quincy, on whom he called regarding the new position, was frightened by the extreme youth of the applicant, and for awhile it looked as though the position would go to some one else. However, after a day or two of waiting, Mr. Yohe was told to take the contracts, agreements and practically the whole general policy of the branch and get things moving. Just what his title was to be and what the duties were was not made clear until the circular announcing the appointment was issued.

On the front of the first engine over the new line the trainmaster gained an idea of the line he was to look after, and thereafter for the next three weeks, without any telegraph lines at all and with no communication headquarters other than uncertain mail, the first trains were operated. A month later passenger trains were commenced and proper facilities installed, and for the following five years Mr. Yohe remained as trainmaster.

Trouble in the chief dispatcher's office on the main line, which at that time was located at McKees Rocks, brought the next opportunity. Standard rules were being adopted at that time by all lines, and their adoption and other conditions generated a chaos which needed straightening out. No time was allowed for preparation and no notice was given to get ready. The order read to take hold and straighten things out and Mr. Yohe received the order. For weeks thereafter every engineman, every conductor, brakeman, fireman and operator was thoroughly drilled by the new chief dispatcher until the system was thoroughly grounded and general uniformity existed.

John Newell at this time was president and general manager of the property, with Judge J. H. Reed vice president, and his sweeping changes in policy at the time of taking hold practically cleaned out the entire operating department with the exception of Mr. Yohe. Later Col. Schoonmaker succeeded Mr. Newell and the present successful policy was inaugurated. Under this management Mr. Yohe was made division superintendent, with G. M. Beach as general superintendent. Then on January 25, 1898, the present position, that of general superintendent, was tendered to Mr. Yohe.

There is little hesitancy among shippers who use all roads in this district when asked as to which gives the best freight service. "The Lake Erie," is the almost unanimous reply. While there have been advantages given the operating department in the way of facilities of every kind, such as few, if any, other roads can show, there is still much credit to be given to the officer who recommended these facilities and, when installed, knew so well how to make use of them.

RAISED $2,500 FOR CHURCH.

Dedicatory Exercises Are Held by the Bellevue Baptist Congregation.

Dedication services were held all day yesterday at the Bellevue Baptist church and about $2,500 was raised to help pay the debt of $4,500. Special music was furnished by the Emmanuel Baptist church quartet, who were assisted by Miss Elizabeth Colmer, Miss Edna May Schaffnit and Samuel T. Beddow. In the morning the dedicatory sermon was preached by the Rev. James A. Maxwell of McKeesport, on the subject, "Planted in God's House." The dedicatory prayer was delivered by the Rev. Dr. J. S. Hutson, pastor of the Beth-Eden Baptist church. Deacon William E. Schaffnit, at whose home plans for a Bible school were laid in June, 1893, read a history of the church. The Rev. Francis U. Kohler, the present pastor, was called October 5, 1902.

After the afternoon session an address was given by the Rev. W. E. Prichard, superintendent of missions for the Pittsburgh Baptist association. Congratulatory speeches were made by a number of Baptist and other ministers.

In the evening a sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. B. F. Woodburn of the Sandusky Street Baptist church, Allegheny. This evening the deacons, the pastor and their wives will give a reception to the members and their friends.

Mr. Charles Frohman, who presents E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe in combination, will open their engagement at the Nixon theater tonight in "Romeo and Juliet." The same bill will be repeated at the Tuesday and Wednesday evening performances. Thursday evening will be the occasion for a change of bill, when Shakespeare's comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing" will be given. Friday evening another change will occur, when Shakespeare's tragedy "Hamlet" will be presented. This will be repeated Saturday evening and at the Saturday matinee.

BIGELOW WANTS MORE ANIMALS

Has Plan for Getting Big Addition to Collection at Highland Park Zoo.

BEASTS AT BARGAIN PRICES

Director E. M. Bigelow will ask councils for an appropriation of $20,000 next year to be used in buying new animals for the Highland park zoo. To this fund the director hopes to add a contribution of $5,000 from the Pittsburgh Railways Company. This is considered sufficient to put the exhibit in first-class shape if adequately supported by contributions each year.

Supt. George W. Burke of the bureau of parks will go to St. Louis this week to look over Hagenbeck's collection at the world's fair. This is an indication that Director Bigelow has sublime faith in his finance committee and has every expectation of getting the appropriation he will ask.

Both the director and Supt. Burke have been studying natural history and its relation to the bargain counter. They know that a royal Bengal tiger reputed to be worth $2,500 and marked down to sell at $800 has no ancestors in Bengal. They know that an elephant can be bought for less money than a giraffe, and that a baboon with good lungs is cheaper at $50 than a consumptive ape at $15. They want a hippopotamus and will be obliged to give about $3,000 for a weaned hippo calf weighing 500 pounds.

Members of the joint finance committee of councils are already being buttonholed by the lobbyists from the zoo. They say that the director has held several consultations with Peter Hermes and has wrought the Sixth ward lawmaker up to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

"Give us more elk, more deer, more buffalo, more goats, more Rocky mountain sheep, more camels, more hippopotami and more rhinoceroses," said Hermes. "The more cattle we exhibit at the zoo the better. The children will never tire of looking at these animals. I have 18,000 cows and want more."

"I wish we could have 18,000 buffalo, 50,000 Rocky Mountain sheep, 72,000 hippopotami and 144,000 elephants," said the director. "Then we would have larger herds than Job before his afflictions and could sell some of our animals every year and have riches that would astonish the sultan of Turkey. If Pittsburgh would go into the animal business Larkin could sell two pairs of giraffes and pay the mayor's salary spot cash. If we should go into the animal business perhaps you would see long strings of camels ambling down the National pike carrying those people to the seashore who failed to get transportation over the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio.

"These are some of the possibilities of the animal business if it were carried to the magnitude of the Standard Oil Company. But we can't begin on that scale, so let's spend $25,000 and build up along modest lines."

The first new animal to be bought will be an elephant as a helpmeet for Gusky. Then there will be a hippo, a pair of giraffes, ostriches, odd sizes of bears and other smaller beasts. The zoo is thriving, and yesterday two baby elk were born, but there is still urgent need of making the exhibit more complete in order that the institution's standahrd will be maintained.

FIRE IS A MYSTERY.

Bottle of Benzine Found in a Penn Avenue Store That Was Destroyed.

Mrs. Bessie Nydes' gentlemen's furnishing store, 2715 Penn avenue, was gutted by fire yesterday afternoon, causing a loss of $2,000, principally on the stock. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Mrs. Nydes, who lives above the store, had gone for a walk with her children a few minutes before the fire broke out. Fireman Joseph Johnson found a bottle half-filled with benzine near the door, which he turned over to the police. The street was crowded with people at the time, and witnesses say that the first inkling they had that there was a fire in the place, was when a volume of flame shot into the street.

The benzine bottle was taken to the Penn avenue police station and an investigation will be made. The place is fully covered by insurance.

"The Two Orphans."

Much interest has been manifested in the forthcoming engagement at the Nixon theater of "The Two Orphans," due to the fact that the company includes several people who are well and favorably known to the theatergoers of Pittsburgh.

William Beach and Miss Truax were for several years members of the Grand Opera House stock company and while here made many friends. The company also includes nine of the most notable stars of the stage, prominent among them being James O'Neill, Louis James, Grace George, Jameson Lee Finney, Elita Proctor Otis, J. E. Dodson and Clara Morris. Orders for seats have been received from cities and towns in all parts of the state.

Fined for Carrying Revolvers.

George Kaber was fined $50 and costs and Philip Deshirst $25 and costs yesterday, for carrying revolvers. The guns were found on them when searched at the Central station.

When we set out to write on Knox Hats we encounter a problem—

There is nothing to argue about, nothing to prove concerning style or quality that every man doesn't already know and concede—

The Knox is a UNIVERSAL gentleman's hat—the standard by which others are judged—

For those who do not care to pay $4 and $5 we recommend our own $3 hat, which we are willing to back up with a twelve-months' guarantee.

JERUSALEM ABOVE, THE GOLDEN CITY, THE CAPITAL OF THE GREAT KING

Pastor C. T. Russell Delivers a Sermon in Bible House Chapel, Allegheny.

ST. LOUIS CONVENTION WORK

Pastor C. T. Russell preached to his home congregation in Bible House chapel, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the St. Louis convention, from which he had just returned, and remarked that on its last day 144 "believers in the atonement," fully consecrated to the Lord, were symbolically immersed. Pastor Russell is booked for Schenectady, N. Y., for next Sunday. He yesterday addressed a large and attentive audience from the text, "Ye are come unto Mount Zion and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem."—Heb., xii:22. He said:

Words are pictures, symbols to convey thoughts from one mind to another. Thus, for instance, we hear one person spoken of as "shrewd," another is said to be "foxy," still another "mulish," while still others are described as "angelic," "cloudy," "queenly," etc. Word pictures which imply so much and can be so briefly expressed are used in connection with all the affairs of life and abound in the scriptures. The apostle uses one of these in our text, in speaking of the future state of the church, as heavenly Jerusalem. This heavenly Jerusalem is referred to frequently in the scriptures, as, for instance, where the apostle speaks of it as "Jerusalem which is above, which is the mother of us all" (Gal. iv:26), and as "the city which hath foundations," and our Lord speaks of it as "the city of my God, which is the New Jerusalem." Again it is described as "the holy city, New Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven," and again as "the great city, the holy Jerusalem descending"—Heb. xi:10; Rev. xi:12, xxi:2-10.

Our fallen condition finds us as a race possessed of varying qualities of mind, so that some have more and some less of the poetic or picturing ability, consequently some find it easier and some less easy to grasp the meaning of this word picture of the New Jerusalem. The natural man, out of accord with heavenly things, is wholly unprepared to grasp the true meaning of this symbol. To him a city means walls and gates, or buildings and business, a police, fire department, etc. Such persons cannot grasp or at all comprehend the scripture presentation respecting the New Jerusalem, and the truth being presented in this symbolical form, the matter is quite hidden or covered from their minds though they read the scriptures over and over.

The Lord declares to us that it is with this intention that the scriptures are written as they are—"that seeing they might see and not perceive, and hearing they might hear and not understand." The understanding of the scriptures is intended only for the Lord's specially consecrated people, and for them in proportion to their consecration. "To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God, but to all them that are without (outsiders) these things are spoken in parables and dark sayings." (Mark iv:11-12.) Peculiar as it may seem, there is no danger of anyone interpreting the scriptures to the class for which they are not intended, because again the scriptures declare that "the natural man received not the things of the spirit of God, neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned;" spiritual things are "foolishness" to such—I. Cor. ii:14.

The New Jerusalem Symbolic.

From the scriptural standpoint the New Jerusalem represents the millennial kingdom—primarily the kingdom class, the glorified church, called in the scriptures a royal priesthood. This New Jerusalem has been under construction for more than 1,800 years, for we are specifically told that it is "the Bride, the Lamb's wife" (Rev. xxi:9); hence it dates from the Pentecostal outpouring of the Holy Spirit, adopting the waiting believers and constituting them the nucleus of the gospel church. There the handful of Jews who had believed into Jesus, and consecrated their lives to follow in His footsteps, became "living stones" to be fitted, shaped, polished and prepared for places in "the Holy City." The walls of this symbolical city and its stones are as symbolized as the city as a whole. We are particularly told that there were 12 great foundations to the city wall which represented the 12 apostles; and from their day to the present time other living stones have been in process of preparation and are now in process of aggregation—in process of being garthered into the glorious union and completeness of the first resurrection.—Rev. xxi:2, 14.

In ancient times a city was less a commercial metropolis and center of business than now, as business in those days was carried on largely by traveling merchants, caravans, etc., and a city chiefly stood for government and protection. The cities were walled and abundantly provisioned, to become fortresses to which the people might flee for protection from foes. This picture of a city ruling its multitudes throughout the scriptures—as, for instance, in Revelations we read of Babylon as the "great city that reigneth over the kings of the earth." True, the reference is to a symbolical Babylon, but the figure of a city still carries with it the symbol the quality of government, rule, authority, control. From the scriptural standpoint mystic Babylon is still ruling over the kings of the earth to a considerable extent, and is destined to have still more arbitrary control in the near future. In each nation there is a capital city which really stands for the nation—as, for instance, St. Petersburg represents the Russian government; Tokyo represents Japan; Pekin represents China; Berlin, Germany; Rome, Italy; London, Great Britain; Washington, the United States, etc. Thus we frequently read in dispatches that the Washington government says this and so, but St. Petersburg answers thus and so.

The whole plan of the scriptures is laid out with reference to the coming kingdom of God "under the whole heavens." For it we are taught to pray and to wait; and this new government, still future, is representatively spoken of in our text and in other passages of scripture as the New Jerusalem, because the church symbolized by Jerusalem the golden will be the government of the new dispensation and have full control of all the affairs of the world under the whole heavens, for the purpose of establishing righteousness and peace amongst men and causing wars to cease unto the ends of the earth.

As natural Israel was made a type or prefigure of spiritual Israel, so the capital city, the center of worship and government in natural Israel, was the type or prefigure of the New Jerusalem, the center of the ruling and blessing and uplifting influences of the glorified church in the future. Mount Zion was in and a part of Jerusalem, and as a mountain in the symbolical language of scripture is uniformly used to represent a kingdom, so this additionally represents the kingdom power of the New Jerusalem, and both natural and spiritual Israel have come to be known as the Lord's Zion. Mount Zion, the kingdom proper. Natural Israel was in the way to inherit the kingdom blessings and privileges, as the apostle points out, but it failed to attain this blessing and, instead, "the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded" as a whole. We are particularly told that there were 12 great foundations to the city wall which represented the 12 apostles; and from their day to the present time other living stones have been in process of preparation and are now in process of aggregation—in process of being gath

SPECULATIVE PROPERTIES ARE FURTHER IMPROVED

All Opinions Are That the Stock Market Is Still in Hands of Those Responsible for Remarkable Gains.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Wall street's decided predilection upon occasions for romances and fairy tales was strikingly illustrated during the week by the outpouring of deal and rumor stories. If experience has taught anything at all, it has made clear the fact that a security market is not in its healthiest stages under conditions which render the circulation and belief in such stories possible. Generally the period has been one when the dominant or controlling interest in the market has reached the conclusion that the psychological moment has arrived for the distribution of shares accumulated at lower prices. This, as a rule, implies that the stock market following has, or is believed to have, reached a stage where it is ready to sweep all other considerations aside and, without reckoning on value, future cost or likelihood of the proposition, plunge recklessly into any gambling transaction.

There seems to be no known precedents for the present speculative market, moving steadily upward from May to October, with scarcely a reaction worthy of the name, until it has reached at last a level of prices which compares not unfavorably with those in the past, when all conservative men pronounced them dangerously high. There are precedents without number for an autumnal rise, culminating generally about this time. There are precedents even for improvement at such times, even during presidential years, and notably in 1900, but upon that occasion the market from time to time halted, and under any circumstances it started from a level for active stocks, about $20 a share lower than the level at the inception of the present movement, and it culminated during the following May, with prices not very much higher than the present range. It is not, therefore, a matter of much surprise that brokers and some bankers as well have kept their customers and clients in mind of the possibilities of reaction, the reaction which thus far has not materialized.

But if the upward movement itself, in most of its phases, is without precedent, are there not other things in the general situation unique and unparalleled? For instance, the decline itself, starting in with September, 1902, and running almost continuously for 18 months, presented some unusual features. Reactions have continued as long, and in the eighties even longer, and prices have declined as much, but no such market depression in the past terminated without some spectacular collapse of business firms. Tremendous losses were unquestionably sustained in the declines and shrinkage of prices during 1902 and 1903, but disasters among stock houses were comparatively few and insignificant when measured by the standards of the past. When it comes to the interval of business depression, if the improvement noted really marks the turn and is not merely a "seasonable improvement," they, too, have been of less severity and duration than most persons expected, in view of the many years of remarkable activity and the extent of the collapse in stock values.

OPERATORS ARE ATTRACTED BY A PLEASING POSSIBILITY

Developments in the lower southwest were enlivened during the past week by a new discovery that is attracting some attention and may lead up to the development of a new pool. Operators have had so many experiences of the same kind during the year that they are no longer disposed to accept the drilling in of a good producer in new territory as indicating the presence of a new pool. The well to attract attention was drilled by the Carnegie Natural Gas Company and is located on the A. Sine farm, near Bula, Batelle district, Monongalia county, W. Va. It was started with a view to developing a gasser in some one of the lower sands, but when drilled into the Big Injun to a depth of 80 feet a pay was encountered and the well filled up rapidly with fluid and began to flow at the rate of five barrels an hour, and placed to its credit 100 barrels the first 24 hours after it began to show oil. Drilling was suspended to provide additional tankage, and it has not been drilled any deeper. As to what the result will be when the drill has been sent deeper into the sand remains to be determined. There is the possibility that it may open up a new Big Injun pool, while on the other hand it may, like other drilling operations during the year, be entirely of the freak order. It is far enough removed from any previous producing wells to admit of a pool of considerable dimensions.

The gas right in the Sine farm is held by the Carnegie Gas Company, who drilled the well, but the oil right belongs to Carnahan & Co., and the well has been turned over to that company, and they will assume the cost of drilling.

Previous to the drilling in of the Sine test the oil in Batelle district was found in the deep sand formations and was credited with some very fine producers. For more than a year there has not been much development work in the district, owing to the wells being small and the expense of drilling to the deep sand very heavy. Operators will keep a close watch on the actions of the new strike, and if they prove satisfactory there will be some lively operations in the immediate vicinity.

Southwest of Mannington, Marion county, another good producer has been drilled into the 30-foot formation and holds promise to that development. The new strike is owned by the Delmar Oil Company and is located on the A. F. Hays farm, on Bartholomew run. This is the Delmar company's first venture in that locality. When drilled into the top of the 30-foot the well began to show oil and flowed 125 barrels the first 24 hours. Some two months ago the South Penn company drilled in a location on the C. S. Pitzer farm and opened up this development. The Pitzer farm test started at 200 barrels a day and is still holding up at about 125 barrels a day. However, the well has been shot several times. The Delmar's test is located to the northeast of the Pitzer and makes the outlook for the new development very promising. At this time there are six or eight test wells drilling or starting in that locality.

On Church's run, near Burton, Wetzel county, the new fourth sand development is proving a disappointment. It will be remembered that the Philadelphia Company first called attention to that district when it drilled in its test on the Sarah Anderson farm and got a gusher. The Philadelphia Company and others holding leases in the vicinity lost no time in starting new work. The first-named started three more wells on the Anderson farm, all of which have been drilled into the fourth sand except No. 4, which was drilled into the Gordon during the week and developed a strong gas pressure in the Gordon and will not be drilled to the lower sand for the present. The old No. 1 is producing 25 barrels a day; No. 2, 25 barrels, and No. 3, 12 barrels a day. In addition to the Philadelphia Company's operations, the Kanawha Oil Company has completed a duster to the southwest and the Syndicate Oil Company has completed one of the same kind to the northeast.

Some pretty heavy bonus money was invested for leases in that locality soon after the initial well was drilled in and made such a flattering showing. Unless an extension is discovered the loss to investors of big bonus money will be quite heavy.

The Gordon sand territory in Wetzel and Harrison counties has done nothing to brighten the prospects for better wells and an increase in production. The average production of the wells placed in the producing list during the week does not exceed eight or 10 barrels a day, and then there was the usual accompaniment of dusters. For economical reasons it would seem that a suspension of operations, under existing conditions, would be commendable at this time. The present market price of crude does not make it profitable to develop territory 3,000 or more feet deep and no assurance of getting wells above the average named. New production that costs from $1,000 to $1,500 a barrel is too much of a luxury for the average operator.

The fifth sand districts in Marion, Harrison and Lewis counties show an increase in operations. The Fairview district, in the first-named, is in the lead with the work.

The shallow sand districts have had nothing out of the ordinary to offer. There is no new discoveries in any quarter to attract attention. The Yellow creek district, in Calhoun county, continues to maintain the lead in active development work. It is thought that the limits of the producing territory have been defined and all that is left to the development of the interior. The average size of the new wells is growing smaller and the old producers show a marked decline in production. In the entire district not more than three have an individual production of 100 or more barrels a day.

On the Ohio side development work to the west of the Keener pool in Monroe county is very satisfactory, although the strip of new wells is narrow. In that part of the pool several good producers were completed and to the northeast the Unity Oil Company got a Big Lime producer that placed better than 150 barrels to its credit the first 24 hours. In the opinion of some there is a good chance for opening a Big Lime pool in the locality. There is no other locality attracting any attention.

GAIN IN MILWAUKEE SHARES.

London Hears a Rumor That There Is a Deal on With Northern Securities.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(Copyright Cable.)—During the last few days there has been a fair amount of buying in investment quarters, of course, to the release of quarterly dividends, but this alone is not considered sufficient to account for the increased volume of business in the stock market, and some sanguine brokers are looking forward to being actually besieged by the general public.

The Yankee corner has again furnished the sensation of the week. This was the rapid rise in Milwaukee shares, which gained 9 points after the close of official hours on Tuesday, and at the end of the week they showed a gain of 11 points in the seven days. Various reports had been circulated here to account for the rise, the most persistent of them being that a deal is in progress with the Northern Securities.

Increase Health Officer's Salary.

The board of health of Turtle Creek has stirred up trouble by increasing the salary of the health officer, Andrew Fyfe, from $20 to $50 a month. Last year the health officer was also truant officer, but this year the school board selected a separate truant officer, and part of Fyfe's income was thus cut off. The board of health decides that it is necessary to keep a man on duty all the time.

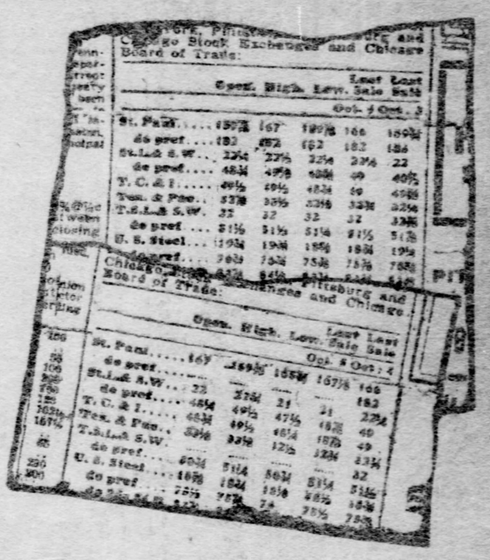
THE STORY —OF THE— Daily Stock Quotations

Foundation of Great Fortunes

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR EVERYBODY

R. M. WEAVER,
STOCKS, BONDS AND GRAIN,
223 Fourth Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.



I AM going to tell a story that the most optimistic dreamer dare not contemplate, yet every word is true—a story that spells fortune between every line and rests its summary with a man's judgment and his nerve to execute it.

You read of the colossal fortunes of individuals throughout the country and ask yourself how it was possible for one man to accumulate so much money; but, as a rule, envy smothers your ambition. But do you ask "Upon what meat doth he feed that he is better fitted than I?"

A man's salary may be sufficient to enable him to save $10 per week—$520 per year—$26,000 in fifty years, but with this self-denial life is so short that even after this long period there is little chance to enjoy the work of a lifetime.

A man may inherit $5,000,000 and invest it at six per cent to obtain an annual income of $300,000.

The average difference between the quotations as recorded daily show the foundation for these immense fortunes—show possibilities that dazzle those who dare to look with unprotected eyes—eyes that are bared of the shield of conservatism. Yet, looked upon as cold, calculated facts, the story reads: One dollar difference between yesterday's prices and today's prices means twenty per cent upon an investment, whether it be $50 or $50,000, and one day's story is but the repetition of all days before in stock market history, and like the species that produces its kind, will be the history to come.

Twenty per cent daily for 300 days is six thousand per cent—colossal—and six thousand per cent upon $50 is $3,000. Upon $50,000 is $3,000,000—colossal—but where else these colossal fortunes?

As Pittsburgh's foremost broker, I want successful customers—I want to help my customers to be successful. To the successful operator with but $50 I will increase his capital twenty times as a bonus for his success, provided his percentage of profits for a single month is greater than that of any other customer, whether he is operating with $50 or $50,000.

Here is my plan:

To the speculator who makes the largest percentage of profits between September 1 and October 1, 1904	$1,000
To the speculator who makes the largest percentage of profits between October 1 and November 1, 1904	1,000
To the speculator who makes the largest percentage of profits between November 1 and December 1, 1904	1,000
To the speculator who makes the largest percentage of profits between December 1, 1904 and January 1, 1905	1,000
To the speculator who makes the largest percentage of profits during the whole period between September 1, 1904, and January 1, 1905, (four months)	2,000
	$6,000

Harry A. Bridges, a mold maker of Jeannette, was the winner of the first $1,000 prize offered by me. Mr. Bridges was a novice in speculative methods, but through his faith in the improvement in the iron and steel industry he cleared up $662 and the $1,000 prize, making a total of $1,662 on an investment of $150.

If he could do that—so can you. Write to me for particulars at once. This is your chance to gain a fortune.

CHURCH MUST NOT RULE THE STATE

Rev. Dr. W. A. Stanton Describes Confusion Sunday Observance Crusade May Evoke.

METHODS OPEN TO CRITICISM

For the purpose of clearly defining the reasons leading to the introduction of the resolution before the Baptist Ministerial association meeting last Monday morning, asking the association to divorce itself from any further affiliation with the Allegheny County Sabbath association in its Sunday observance crusade, the Rev. Dr. W. A. Stanton, who introduced the resolution, preached to his congregation in the Shady Avenue Baptist church last night, on "Church and State. Their Relation to Each Other and to Sunday."

Dr. Stanton dwelt upon the confusion which would arise by establishing a precedent of church interference in state matters, holding that a reversed movement would create havoc as by historic testimony. He held that the association was enforcing civil laws, not as citizens, but as ministers. Dr. Stanton declared that he did not deny the need of a better enforcement of the laws, or did he doubt the sincerity of the crusaders, although the methods employed were open to criticism. The sermon attracted a large and attentive congregation. Dr. Stanton said in part:

Church and the State.

By the state I mean a political community organized under a distinct government, recognized and conformed to by the people as supreme, its natural basis is in man's social nature and relations. Its legal basis is essential right and justice. It should insure freedom and security in all affairs pertaining to the citizens of said state. It deals with man's physical, moral and social nature but has nothing to do with his spiritual and religious nature except to protect him in the proper exercise of his rights as a spiritual and religious citizen. The power of the state is civil, social and moral. In those ways and in no other it may be legislative, administrative and judicial.

The church differs from the state in that it is a voluntary organization for religious purposes only, having a distinct history, creed, ecclesiastical government and forms of worship. Its natural basis is man's spiritual and religious nature; its laws, pains and penalties are for its voluntary members only.

It has no moral right to assume the civil functions of the state. Neither has the state any right to assume its functions. Both deal with man, but with different phases of his nature. An infringement by the church upon the rights and functions of the state tend toward a theocracy where the government is by ecclesiastics and where the ministers would be in reality the chief officers of state and would claim for all real or alleged revelations of God the authority of civil law. They would also claim the right to punish for violation of civil as well as of religious statutes.

It was thus in the Hebrew state from Moses to the monarchy; in medieval Europe during the dark days of the Inquisition; in New England during her first 60 years, or until Roger Williams founded the plantation of Rhode Island, with its absolute divorce of church and state and its consequent religious liberty. An infringement by the state upon the rights and functions of the church is equally disastrous and means the claim of the state to legislate and punish in matters of conscience and spiritual life.

History is so full of the impossibility of making men religious by law as to need no specific citations. And yet the temptation is ever before zealous men to imagine that a good end justifies doubtful means and that it is worth while at least this once. They ask how else may it be done, and because another way is not easily seen, or threatens slower progress, they try the one that seems quickest and easiest without thinking clear through to possible results that they themselves should be quick to repudiate when actually brought to pass. It is here that I criticise the appeals of the Allegheny County Sabbath association to churches and ministerial associations, as such, to enforce our civil Sunday laws. I do not deny the need of their better enforcement nor their violations. I do not stand for violation of nor contempt for law. I do not here even discuss some of the methods that have been adopted by the association and that, to say the least, are open to discussion. I do not question the zeal and sincerity of the executive committee nor their right to undertake this work in their civic capacity. Some of them have said that they are doing just that; having said it I do not doubt their belief that they are, for they are good and truthful men. But they would be the last to claim their infallibility and I want to show where I think they have made a mistake.

From their own circular entitled "Enforcing the Sabbath Law," I learn that they report to the ministers' associations, "under whose auspices the movement was inaugurated." They ask the ministerial associations "to indorse the movement for the enforcement of law and to pledge financial support to a total amount of $1,000." They even ask for "authority to proceed with the organization of a county Sabbath association to affiliate with the state association." That hardly looks like a citizens' movement, does it?

Movements Are Misdirected.

I should call it a movement of ministers, as ministers, in their organized capacity as officers of the church. Furthermore, in the same official document, signed by the officers of the Sabbath association, and all of them ministers, I find that they gave notice to offenders that they "would have to pay the penalty." What right have church officers to do that? In another place the circular refers to the ministers' associations as "those by whom we are responsible as a committee." I see no other conclusion but that the ministers in these associations are enforcing civil law as ministers. Were further proof needed it may be had on the fourth page of said circular, where "the association, or ministers of each Christian denomination that believe in this law, appoint a committee of five ministers, with power to add to their number five laymen" (not citizens, but "laymen"), "thus making a committee of 10, to act with the committees of other religious bodies co-operating to form an advisory committee to act with the executive committee in all its work, alike of enforcement, education and legislation."

With the exception of "education" do we not have here a clear case of the officers and laymen of the church, in an official capacity and not as citizens, self-assuming the functions of the state?

One thing more: We must not forget that the relation the state bears to Sunday is as a red day and nothing more, while the church's relation to it is as a holy day to the Lord, founded upon God's command and man's spiritual necessity. From its viewpoint the state may legislate for all its citizens; from the church's viewpoint it may legislate for all its ministers, but for no one else. As a church it has no more to do with enforcing the state's Sunday laws than the state has to do with enforcing in the church its ecclesiastical laws for the day as a holy day. There must be no confusion here.

MINISTER DISCUSSES THE POWER OF POLITICS

Declares Nation Will Continue to Advance and Prosper Regardless of Outcome of Election.

In the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church the Rev. W. H. H. Rees preached from the subject, "The Power of Politics." The text was from Acts xxi:24, "And some cried one thing and some another among the multitude." He said:

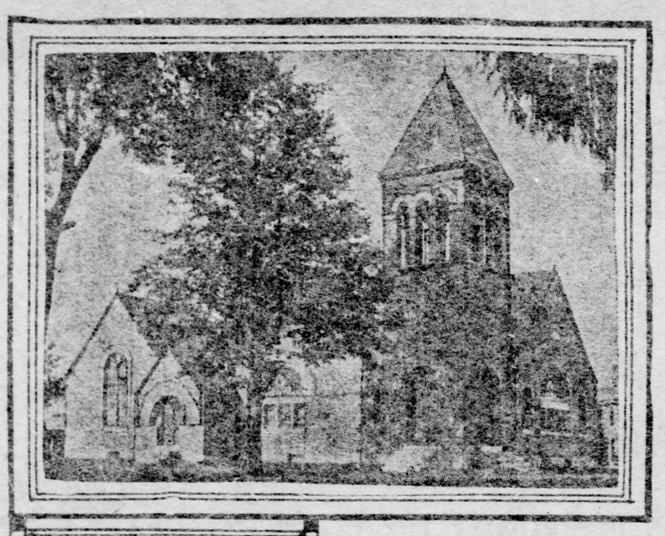
This is the land of the free and the home of the brave. Did it ever occur to you that we are a mighty bossed people? Primary, ward, city, county, state, national politics. Obey the "boss" or off comes your head politically, and another will sit in your place in office. One cries one way to the multitude and another cries another. The Democrats point to the Republicans and cry "imperialism." The Republicans point to the Democrats and cry "uncertain and wavering monetary policy" and "hard times." While neither the "G. O. P." nor the party of "Jeffersonian simplicity" look squarely at the great issue before the American people, namely, the "rum traffic," and yet the waste caused by this monster of the pit would in a single year pay the national debt and set the wheels of industry whirling with an intenser service than they have ever known.

The politicians of the country would make us believe that once every four years the country is going to ruin. I don't believe that for one minute. It did not go to ruin under Johnson, though he was the opposite of Lincoln. It did not collapse under Arthur, although he was not as Garfield, and the old ship of state is still sailing prosperously under the rule of the impetuous cowboy, yet cultured Roosevelt, if he is not a William McKinley.

What is the great issue at stake? If we are to believe the political orators it is, which set of rascals shall be in power. It is getting to be a supreme grab after office. What kind of a man should the president of the United States be? I answer a man of high moral character. Our homes, our schools, our churches, our good name demands that at least. He should be front enough to take in the varied interests of all sections of the great country.

We are now a great nation. All the people should be considered in their varied interests. He should not belong to Wall street, nor to a corporation, nor to laboring people, but to all alike. He should have the greatest respect for God's book, God's day and God's people. This is a Christian nation. Our day is opening. Speed on the republic.

SOON TO CELEBRATE CENTURY AND A HALF OF EXISTENCE



Oxford U. P. Church.

Rev. Preston B. Logan.

OLD CONGREGATION WILL CELEBRATE

Church to Observe Its One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary.

OTHER MEETINGS FOR OXFORD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OXFORD, PA., Oct. 9.—Three notable gatherings will be held in this town this month. The United Presbyterians will on October 13 and 14 celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of their church.

The Presbyterian church will entertain the synod of Pennsylvania from October 19 to 24.

The Presbyterian church will celebrate its sesqui-centennial October 24-26.

The United Presbyterian congregation of Oxford enjoys the distinction of being one of the oldest Associate congregations in America.

On October 20, 1754, the Associate Presbytery of Pennsylvania organized the two pioneer churches of that faith in this land—one at Octorara, Lancaster county, one at Oxford. The presbytery, organized November 2, 1753, was composed of the Rev. Alexander Gellatly and the Rev. Andrew Arnot. The Rev. Gellatly founded both churches and resided here from 1754 to 1758, when he retired to Octorara and there died March 12, 1761, in his 42d year.

Successor a Scotchman.

His successor in this place was also a Scotchman, the Rev. Matthew Henderson, who was pastor from 1758 to 1781. The Rev. Henderson resided about a mile from Oxford, and all that marks the site of his cabin is a large stone chimney with fireplace. A pear tree he planted still bears fruit unlike any in the neighborhood. It is said his voice was remarkable for distinctness and power and his reproofs were scathing and pointed.

The Rev. Mr. Henderson accepted a call in 1782 to Chartiers and Buffalo, Washington county, where he labored and died. Of him it is said he had much to do with the incipient measures which finally resulted in the establishment of Jefferson college. His death was accidental, resulting from the branches of a falling bee tree striking him on the head. He was among the first buried in Chartiers cemetery, the following inscription being on his gravestone:

Inscription on Gravestone.

In memory of the Rev. Matthew Henderson, who departed this life October 2, 1785, aged 60 years, and in the 37th year of his ministry.

In heavenly toils, O Henderson, grown gray,
Thy earthly fame was hastening to decay;
Thy growing languor threatened to detain
Thee from thy loved employment, but in vain;
For in thy course no Sabbath failed t' attest
The love of souls which burned within thy breast;
Till by one transient stroke which gave release,
Thy Saviour bade thee enter into peace.
Great and unlook'd happy change from battered dust
Unto the glorious mansions of the just!
Let us prepare to measure that bright road,
The best of all our friends is there—our God.

The Rev. John Smith, the third pastor of the Oxford church, was here from 1783 to 1794. In the latter year he moved to the western part of this state and was pastor in a number of places.

He died suddenly from heart trouble on the morning of March 25, 1825, just after he had asked a blessing at the table.

Graduate of Allegheny Seminary.

The Rev. Preston B. Logan, present pastor of the church, came here about two years ago. He was born in Okete, Mo., attended Monmouth college, Illinois; was graduated from Allegheny seminary in 1898 and his first charge was at Slatelick, Pa.

A singular coincidence is that material for the first book printed in Baltimore-Town, Md., was furnished from hearings before the Associate presbytery in Oxford in 1764. It was printed by Nicholas Hasselbach, who went from Germantown, Pa., to Baltimore-Town, Md. The title page of the book reads:

A
of the
Conduct and Proceedings of Messrs. Anna and Henderson, members of the Associate Presbytary's whole Sitting at Oxford Meeting House, April 18th, Anno Domini, 1764, together with their Abettors; wherein is containd some Remarks.

REV. MR. YOUNG ENTERS AN APPEAL FOR PEACE

Declares Question Is Vital and Takes Rank Above Every Other Public Issue.

In the Bijou theater last night the Rev. S. Edward Young of the Second Presbyterian church entered a plea for peace. His text was from I. Samuel, xxvi.:9: "David said to Abishai: 'Destroy Him not.'" He said:

Above every other public issue this instant ranks the general movement toward universal peace. Russia and Japan are furnishing a terrible object lesson savage enough to shock and sicken all those who imagined that our modern military methods and rules insured a refined quality of international murdering. Is not this the psychological moment for supreme endeavor toward the world's disarmament? The meeting Rabbi Levy has called in the Eighth Street synagogue Thursday evening ought to focalize the moral and religious and humanitarian forces of the whole Pittsburgh region in one grim, glorious declaration of war against war.

Can we ever account our humankind fully civilized so long as our strongest men, our best bread winners, are ordered on to butcher one another in these colossal duels called battles? What are the Republican or Democratic campaign issues compared to this? Have we such narrow sympathies that half the globe's circumference can separate Liao-Yang and Mukden from our consideration? To a true lover of humanity would the case be different if the battle-blighted spot were Pittsburgh? Where could men construct a more valiant peace organization than right here in the engine room of the world's commerce? Many an age has thrilled with vast achievements; but I would prefer beyond any of the rest to see the parliament proposed and prophesied by old Isaiah:—Swords made plowshares and spears made pruning hooks, when "nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Would You Think It?

Would you think it possible that you could be disappointed in the face of a woman whose shapely shoulders, and beautiful hair suggest womanly perfection and beauty? Such disappointment comes not seldom when the face turned to you shows disfiguring blotches and blemishes. In general the cause of these eruptions is impure blood.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood, and removes the corrupt accumulations which cause disease. When the blood is cleansed, pimples, tetter, salt-rheum, boils, sores, and other results of impure blood, are perfectly and permanently cured.

"For three years I suffered with that dreaded disease eczema," writes Mrs. D. Koepp, of Herman, Oregon. "I was told to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I did, and after I had taken fourteen bottles I was permanently cured. It has been a year since I stopped taking your medicine and it has never appeared since. I think your medicine a wonderful cure and hope others suffering as I did, will take it and be relieved of their suffering."

Some of the most remarkable cures effected by "Golden Medical Discovery," have been of scrofulous diseases.

"I will forever thank you for advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Jas. Murphy, of Fonda, Pocahontas Co., Iowa. "It has cured me of chronic scrofula of twelve years' standing. I had doctored for the trouble until I was completely discouraged. I also had chronic diarrhea for twelve years. I am in good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took several bottles of the 'Discovery' before I stopped."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure dizziness and sick headache.
